

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Nuts in May . . .

HERE WE GO gathering nutty little items—Like Bill Gilmore who capably crafted a Cable Car prop in the studio for tonight's Miramonte Jamboree & then forgot he had to get it OUT of there. Too big! Or like his wife Win arriving on scene at Miramonte's gym for a dress rehearsal w/the Jam's cost of Thousands (all the understudies have understudies!) Win smiled a smug one to herself noting two pianos in place, curtain, everything in order & then enter Mr. Brooks w/his Thursday Night Men's Athletic League or some such sporty outfit. After a little give & take on both sides, the cast disappeared BEHIND the curtains to conduct rehearsal & the TNMAL happily bounced around on the courts in FRONT of the stage—proving we're all easy to live with, very adaptable & a downright cooperative bunch!

TONIGHT'S Jamboree w/a SF theme, will be fun for the whole family w/student, parent & teacher participation—and dancing to Henry Gallagher till past the Cinderella hour.

NUTS IN MAY are those I'll ole cowpokes who had some fun w/the Orinda Assoc. Property sign. The new one says "Cows Can't Pasture"—or did it go right pasteur-eyes? . . . Stuttering Sam, Damon Runyon's character from the story of the same name, is not a fictitious character. He now lives out Alamo Way & still stutters . . . Which reminds that any older New Yorkers seeing "Pocketful of Miracles" by same Broadway writer, would recognize that Apple Annie was really Broadway Rose who made her living selling discarded flowers from the florist district.

OUT SAN RAMON way, the most beautiful drive hereabouts, across the freeway & into the unblemished world of Castlewood Country Club area, some farmer must have plowed under a ton of poppy seeds. Most colorful blazing thing around & just right for a California pix so bring your colorfilm . . . One of Orinda's most billowing green driveways, positively draped in vernal wonder, deserves a second look. It's POISON OAK! & if P.O. is your occasional problem, try Rhulitol used by the DuPont forestry engineers. Good to sluice on one's arms after gardening as a preventive measure.

LEAP before you look when the Cotillion invites come in the mail "early in May." Camp out at your mailbox & as soon as you have the invite for your child in your hot little hand, jet to the P.O. for all acceptances are taken in order postmarked. If you played bridge all day, don't despair. Get Dal to do as a couple of fathers did last year & rush check to Oakland's Main P.O. for a Special Delivery posting.

Apparently the many solutions offered the committee by concerned and mannerly mothers have been to no avail because the Cotillion (for dances four mos. hence) is going about business the usual rat-race rush way—making our kids think we're REALLY goofy!

BEFORE your family cat gets into the habit of sleeping inside the dryer, kill it. The habit, I mean. Before you kill the cat. Like one of our remorseful matrons whose precious tabby got fluff-dried recently.

FOR QUEEN of the May, we nominate Dan & Cornelia Adams' darling Lisa who was out delivering old-fashioned May Day bouquets last Tuesday. Oh, voices of Childhood past! & for the prettiest toothless grin, little Katie Kissick, Diane's dgthr. & the Del Browns' granddgthr, who looks most fetching despite the loss of her middle uppers.

In a Nutshell . . .

When Fashionable Edith Scatena & Stella Boyle SF-shopped together recently, Edith contemplated each costume on Stella w/a "Think how it will look on the podium, Dahling!" (Now YOU know what a podium is!) Anyhow, Stella got outfitted head to toe & WILL be the Dahling of her High School's 25th Reunion in Detroit, this wknd. & the reason for the podium? Stella was class pres. & will be a speaker! THAT'S OUR GIRL!

IN A NUTSHELL: Like one of our DelReyites who calls it The Utah Destruction Company. He used to live in Alameda . . . Randy Mowdy says "It's not the heat that's hot. It just feels that way."

Lois Denning, being nautical but nice, tells us that the family boat is getting spit & polished for the Vallejo races . . . She admits to plenty of overtime in the Galley for her sailing crew & reminds us of Matey Helen Federighi's classic comment on galley-duty for seagoing wives. "It's that one big meal that gets me! The one that starts at six in the morning & lasts till after midnight."

BILL WILKINSON takes over the reigns as Valley Art Center's new pres. His wife Irene is on the boards of both Valley & Orinda Art Centers . . . Artist Blanche Brody & her Kaiser-medic husband Burt are painting the English countryside & taking in other European places they missed before.

Lois & Chuck Fleener spring-vacationed in the Islands . . . & Way Down South in the Land of Disney went Donald & Carol Kansteiner trailing w/their children Linda, Jody & Donnie during Easter week. The Carroll Kinseths took in the World's Fair Opening!

TEACHER'S CORNER: Miramonte's Music Man Laurence Anderson is back in the hospital to have a screw removed from his ankle. He shouldn't complain. MOST of us have them in our heads . . .

The Wonderful World of Bachelors: Don Jesse, Orinda's Bard & bearded bachelor, promoted poetry-reading at Pine Grove's Open House this week. One year, remember, he scared us all stiff w/a Hitchcock touch of Hamlet! Then there's The SUN's genial George Colburn, one very neat Young Man About Town, who liked the mensh of this col. that he'd taken up residency in Oak Springs but would like his age published too, which is 24 & if you were still that young, you'd want to see yours in print aussi.

Give me back the Dunce Cap! I forgot up above to say that Orinda teach & sportscoach Al Rubey's father played 'way back w/the Oakland Oaks against Ty Cobb & boy, this gets those Little Leaguers!

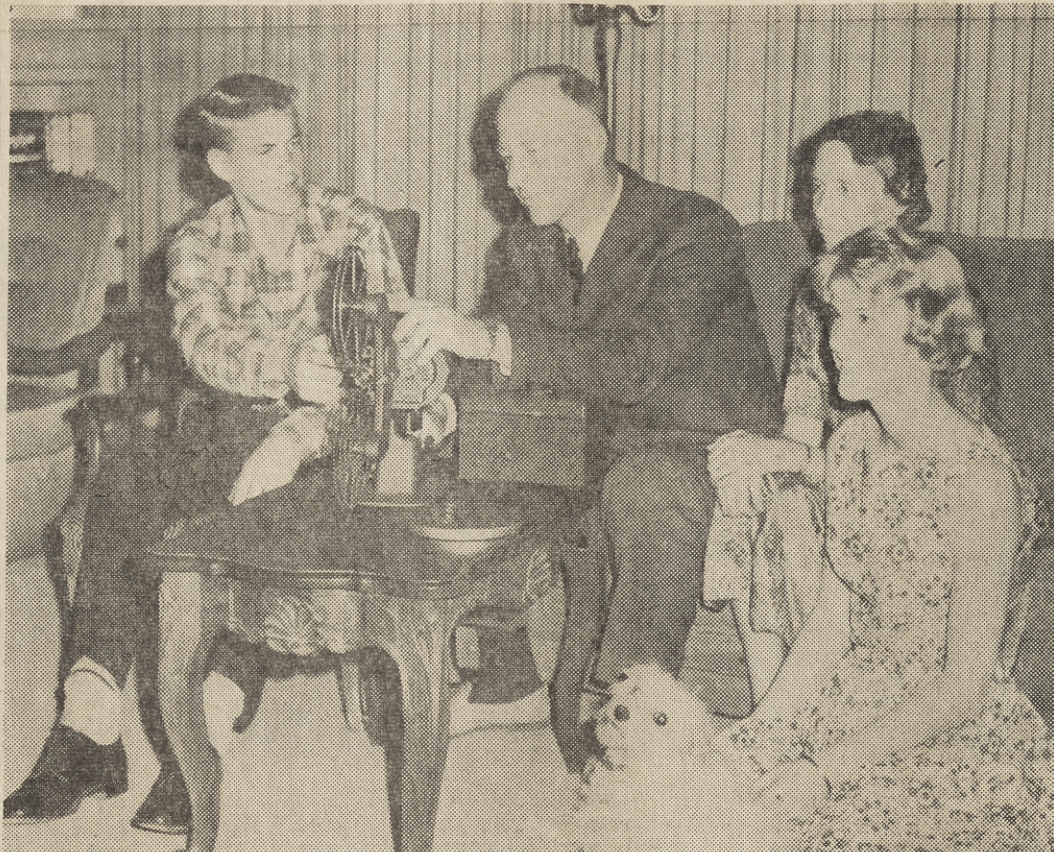

MOTHER-Daughter Duos: Marge Trumbly shopping w/her wide-eyed adorable yr. old Tracy Trumble . . . Jane Netland hugging her armful of girl & wearing a cute blue country denim w/big patch pockets, the better for all those graham crackers, kleenexes & stuff & things when baby's along.

NO SUMMER ROMANCE was it for Bonnie McCready who married the young man she met last summer East & is now Mrs. James Nelson, Jr. of Dallas . . . Reader's Digest is considering a first-time pictorial condensation. Of our Wayne Miller's wonderful "The World Is Young." I loaned my copy out again & now I've forgot to whom . . .

Had to laugh about it all the way home but it taught me a good lesson. You know when six doz. freshly-baked cookies dwindle down to ten single ones in a few hours & you fire away—or maybe YOU don't, but I do . . . "Who took the cookies? Al-right, WHO TOOK THE COOKIES? If you won't admit it, there'll be NO dinner tonight. No! & no shows for the next six months! If you don't tell me where all those cookies went, you'll get no dessert for the next five months! AND THE CAKE? (Here sobbing is heard!) I baked it from scratch this morning & it took me a whole hour & now there's not even enough for dessert.

I'VE GONE all the way to SF & been disappointed in theatre. Here, you only have to go as far as Lafayette & NOT be disappointed . . . The downstairs lobby is decked in naval attire—semaphore flags strung from the ceiling, a fine mural of "The Caine" & a ship's wheel & lanterns behind the refreshment bar . . . Kind of a Macy's-Gimbel touch at the bottom of the Dramateurs' program—"Our Thanks to the Claremont Hotel for the furniture used in the scene at the Fairmont Hotel . . . but the Fairmont DID come through w/some of the hotel wallpaper.

Family of the Week

NEWHOUSE CLAN

Family Fare: Fair

COLOR SLIDES and movies of the 1939 World's Fair at Treasure Island are dusted off for a showing by Dr. Glenn Newhouse, who'll take his family to Seattle sometime this summer. Ethel Newhouse recalls the fun of the '39 Fair and points out special attractions to the couple's children: Helen, 17, and Richard, 15. Son Dale, 22, is currently in the Navy aboard the U.S.S. Fort Marion doing duty as an electrician technician after which stint he'll resume college studies.

The Naval appointment of Dr. Newhouse to a photography officer during World War II stemming from his interest in photography, a hobby that has become one of the whole family enjoys and shares.

THE NEWHOUSES who live in the Canon Drive home formerly occupied by the James Lewis family, are neither old-timers or brand newcomers, but made the move from city to country a few years ago for more "growing space." Their home was previously in San Francisco, which, comments Ethel, "may have more conveniences, but not the charm of space and trees."

Newhouse, who received his doctor's degree from Stanford and taught in Bay Area schools for twenty years, is supervisor of industrial arts for the City of Oakland, and now starting his seventh year in that capacity.

The native San Jose man, tall, kindly and distinguished, puts his interests all in the same pocket — promoting industrial education and good teachers for the same. He is chairman of the State Long-range Professional Planning Committee for California Industrial Education Association, a director of the Association for Advancement of Industrial Education and last but not least, chairman of the Bay Area Scholastic Section Committee, a non-profit scholarship organization that serves to give scholarships and encouragement to those who seek a teacher's degree in Industrial Arts.

MRS. NEWHOUSE, who lauds the local climate as well as a larger yard where she can garden to her heart's content, was for many years a substitute teacher in Bay Area schools.

Helen and Richard share a like interest in sports and always have "so many things to do." She is a senior at Miramonte, wants to be a teacher some day, enjoys skiing and tennis and is an excellent swimmer, is a recipient of the Red Cross senior life-saving award. Richard plays the clarinet with the Miramonte High School Band, is a member of the tennis team and looks forward to the pool opening at Orinda Park tomorrow where the family swim.

When they aren't planning that trip to the Fair. Or a later summer treat for Glenn and Ethel, who'll trek to Alaska.

Miramonte Jamboree Tonight

Miramonte Parents' Club is tonight putting on a jamboree which is felt to be more than just another fund-raising function.

This is to be a community get-together and entertainment for both parents, teachers and students. Orindans need not drive over the bridge or through the tunnel in search of entertainment tonight. For little more than its costs to see a movie, they can treat the family to some genuine home-spun entertainment in the high school gymnasium.

The "San Francisco" show, in rehearsal for several months, is composed of a variety of acts. A group of teachers have formed a "Sauerkraut Band." Playing the "oompah" will be James Lewis, Miramonte's principal.

Messrs. Rose, Christie, Brock, Gilmore, Hunn, Calhoun and Harmon are just a few of the father's names on the program.

Mrs. Winnie Gilmore has been working around the clock on the coordinating and choreography. Even the students have come forth with some choice bits from their student assemblies as well as some new acts.

Show time is 8:30. Dancing to Henry Gallagher's band is from 9:30 to 12:30 but even non-dancers will find the show well worth the price of admission.

Rummage Is Called for by Orinda Lions

The Orinda Lions' Club rummage sale will be May 10 at Carl Miller's Rummage Salesroom, Berkeley.

"Please help us to help you to help others," Mario Albo, president, says. Proceeds from the sale will benefit the club's philanthropies.

Orindans are asked to gather as much rummage as possible and deposit it at one of the two pick-up stations in the area before Wednesday.

The stations are: T&D Meats, Blacks Market, in care of Vasco Giannini; and Moraga Valley Nursery, in care of Bob Waschmirth.

Summer School Sign-ups for Rheem Needed

Moraga School District's summer school will offer a diversified program, according to Robert Trask, principal of Donald L. Rheem School, where the program will be held.

Sign-ups are going on now. Enrollment to date is approximately 30 per cent of the total enrollment. This is behind the 50 per cent of last year.

For further information regarding the program, call Rheem School: DR 6-4441.

Denny Mallory To Talk About African Mission

Dr. Henry Mallory, chairman of the World Service Board, will be the featured speaker at "mission interest night" at the Piedmont Community Church Wednesday. The meeting, which will include an NBC film narrated by Chet Huntley, will start at 8 p.m. in the church sanctuary. The public is invited.

Dr. Mallory is a member of the Africa Committee of the United Church Board for World Ministries. A dentist in the state, Mallory tells a thrilling story of how he and his wife, June, made an unusual trip to Africa.

June and Denny Mallory's personal mission to Angola, Portuguese West Africa, is a story of what a layman missionary can do.

"The outreach of the church is the work that is most important," Dr. Mallory says. "Somehow we must get this vision across to our people. It's got to be done by laymen . . . I've got a new sense of the meaning of Christianity since I've put my beliefs into action. It goes something like this: praying, doing, and then saying."

Dr. Mallory will show an outstanding film just released for distribution. It is an NBC production entitled "The NBC White Paper Number 7 — Journey to Angola."

Dr. Mallory is well known to church members in this area.

Civic Leader Succumbs to Heart Attack

Funeral services were held recently for Arthur D. Henry, 46, prominent Orindian who died suddenly of an apparent heart attack.

Henry, sales manager for the Shedd-Bartush Food Company, lived at 42 Brookside Road. He had gone to Glorietta School with his son, David, 12, for a half-hour's batting practice shortly before his death. He was a Little League coach for the school's sixth grade team.

A resident here for 15 years, Henry was a member of the vestry of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; formerly moderator and vestryman for Orinda Community Church, and once served as vice president of the Orinda Association, a community-wide civic improvement organization.

He leaves his widow, Ruth; a son, David, and two daughters, Susan, 19, and Nancy, 17.

Four Local Men Listed in New Round Table

John A. Athanson and William E. Jenkins of Lafayette, and Robert A. Moss and Philip Philibosian of Orinda, are listed in the 1962 roster of the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Every member of the 1962 Round Table must have sold at least a million dollars of life insurance in 1961 or else have met the even stricter requirements for life membership by his sales in prior years. Fewer than one per cent of the world's life insurance agents are Round Table members.

Athanson is with Lincoln National Life. Jenkins is with Massachusetts Mutual Life. Moss is with North American Company for Life, Accident and Health. Philibosian is a Chartered Life Underwriter with Prudential.

Hats Off To...

Esther Anderson and Garden Club Members

NO POSIES, please, (they probably all have plenty!) but make it a set of sterling silver spades for the ladies of the Orinda Garden Club and their current leader, president Mrs. James (Esther) Anderson.

The oldest local club with the most prestige and planting to its credit, now boasting an all-time high membership of seventy-five, recently celebrated its 25th anniversary. On hand at the luncheon at Orinda Country Club were some of the Founder members who helped Dorothy Lamb get the original Garden Club "off the ground." They've been back on it and in it ever since, however, and have contributed a gloved hand and a trowel to many a corner of our town that needed beautification.

It's nice to mention the other Founder-members right here and that would be Mrs. Richard (Ruth) Breuner, Mrs. Ernest (June) Hadden, Mrs. Harold (Bea) Martin, Mrs. Harold (Margaret) Symes, Mrs. Leon (Natalie) Woolsey and Mrs. W. P. (Helen) Stevenson, most who helped celebrate, too.

THE GARDEN CLUB has given TLC to whatever plot of ground they took on—like the tremendous amount of work put into prettifying up the old Triangle that used to be at the foot of El Toyonal pre-free-way days. The circle at the Crossroads is one of the club's particular projects, decorating the tree for Christmas, pinching the pansies and petunias, and this sizeable task even requires a special chairman who is fittingly called, Chairman of the Circle at the Crossroads.

The well-planned planting of the Orinda Library was probably the largest contribution to the community by club members, both in woman power and tired muscles. Way back when the only school was Orinda Union, the group planted the school's garden and the trees along the street in that area. The most recent donation by the Club who has won top awards both in flower arrangements and outdoor gardens at previous California Spring Garden Shows, are five English laurels which will hide some necessary eyesore at the Orinda Library. The ladies also plan to landscape the area behind the Standard Oil station along the freeway.

THE CLUB'S CURRENT president, Esther Anderson, is a fifteen-year member. She is the wife of architect James Anderson who designed the couple's 5 Via Hermosa home which Esther describes as "still very modern." The lady who can't stay out of her OWN garden, is also an active Valley Art Center member, has a grandson Neil Van Reen attending Stanford which makes her, she humorously remarks, "the only Grandmother in the Stanford Mother's Club."

GARDEN HATS off to the Garden Club and may all of your gardens grow beautifully while you give of time, talent and green thumbs to your community!

'Del Rey Dolls' Fair Is Set for Tomorrow

The Del Rey Parents' Club will hold its annual county fair from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the school grounds.

The theme of this year's fair will be, "The Roaring Twenties" and a variety show follies featuring the "Del Rey Dolls" will be presented at 1 p.m. and again at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Clarence Baker is directing this revue of the school's young talent. Master of ceremonies and circus barker throughout the day will be Frank Kastner.

MR. AND MRS. John A. Anderson, ways and means chairmen of the Parents' Club who are in charge of the fair, announce that a great variety of entertainment is to be offered.

There will be games of skill for all members of the family, with prizes for the successful. W. L. Yager, Harry Polhamus, Jack Eddy, Frank Fuller and Mrs. Lee Perry.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Girl Scouts Plan a Busy Spring Schedule

Spring brings a bustle of activity to Orinda Girl Scouts, with overnight camping high on the list.

Seventeen troops are planning a "cookout" and overnight at the Diablo State Park, where the entire Rock City picnic area has been assigned to them.

Two other troops have recently had overnight adventures. Troop 265 under the leadership of Mrs. Victor Smith built fires, cooked three meals, and camped at Twin Canyons.

THIS WAS as great a success as the trip 13 scouts of Troop 156 took to Carmel with their leader, Mrs. Shirley Jones.

There they stayed in the Carmel Scout Hut, visited the first theater in Monterey, and cooked shish-kebabs on the beach.

Troop No. 344 (leaders are the Mmes. Schroeder and Bittner) have been working on an original skit. Mrs. Hall's Troop 254 has completed its dramatic appreciation badge, with supervision from Mr. Jesse of Pine Grove School.

WHILE MRS. Fetzner's Troop No. 385 is preparing for a fly-up and making puppets, Troop 317 led by Mrs. Daniloff is completing its bird badge. Brownie Troop 257, led by Mrs. Craig Bull, is busy learning songs and make duck bags for cookouts.

Mrs. Wilson's Troop 297 is working on leathercraft, dramatic skits, and first aid.

A field trip through the Carbone Orchid Nursery was enjoyed by Troop No. 281, under the leadership of Mrs. Saunders.

Be Lazy When You Travel Advises 'Suburbia Today'

The big May issue of "Suburbia Today," which will reach you in the current edition of your Sun, leads off with a feature by Temple Fielding, in which the veteran traveler urges you to go in "Lazybones Class" — travel light, take it easy, and let people wait on you when it's their business to do so.

Then, Pulitzer prize-winning author Pearl Buck writes about how to be a good guest. She talks about what she expects of her hosts and of herself, and ends with the most important aspect of a good visit — knowing when to go home.

The second in "Suburbia Today's" series of Round Table discussions takes up the subject: "How to Stretch Your Education Dollars," and shows how communities from coast to coast are finding new ways to hold school costs down and still give our children a good education.

MARGARET FARRAR, the world's foremost compiler of crossword puzzles, is also represented with a puzzle that would stump any city dweller — but, as you will see when you try it, it should be a walk-through your driveway.

Supervisors Accept Bid For Airport Gas Drilling

Trico Oil Company was the lone bidder for drilling rights to sites on Buchanan Field.

The company agreed to drill to at least 5000 feet before quitting, and will give the county one-sixth of all royalties if natural gas is discovered under the airport.

Also on the agenda for the board of supervisors Tuesday was consideration of a 12 percent rise in building permit fees. Building Inspector Rudy Krantz received approval for the rise, necessary since the county must now comply with state building code restrictions.

SUPERVISOR Edmund Linseheid said the board should consider new locations for garbage dumps in the county. There are only three adequate public dumps at present, he said. The illegal dumping of garbage becomes a more serious problem the farther one goes from a dump, he added.

The board approved, in principle, contracts for services between the county and the City of Pleasant Hill.

Jim Ritch, manager of the Contra Costa Development Agency, said the county exhibit at the San Francisco Space Age Engineering meeting at the Cow Palace was a success.

He said the federal government would like to hold a smaller symposium in this county. Purpose would be to encourage small manufacturers to enter space fields on small government contracts now ignored by big producers.

A REPORT on the county unemployment problem was presented by Concord attorney, Warren Bassett. He suggested a wait-and-see attitude until the new federal retraining program is under way.

Bids Accepted for Disputed County Office Building

The James E. Roberts Construction Company of Oakland is expected to be chosen to build the county's disputed 12-story administration building annex.

The firm turned in a low bid among the seven received of $2,864,600 one-quarter of a million dollars less than the engineer's estimate.

Bids were opened Tuesday by the Contra Costa County Retirement Board, but the contract will not be awarded until next Wednesday.

MEANWHILE, a legal cloud hangs over the project with a suit technically filed by Anthony G. Lagiss, a Lafayette real estate man, against the county, to stop construction.

The lawsuit concerns the financing of the building, which Lagiss claims is unconstitutional.

The structure will be built from funds of the County Retirement Association and leased to the county for 25 years.

After that time the county will buy the building for $1.

Lagiss claims the county should have financed the project with bonds. The lease will obligate the county to start construction on a project which costs more than one year's revenue for the county, he argues.

State construction requires that any such project must be approved by two-thirds vote of the public.

THE ATTORNEY on the suit, Harlow P. Rothert, is also handling a similar suit filed against Alameda County. This is now pending before the State District Court of Appeals.

The attorney claims that the lease is actually just a collusive means of allowing a major capital investment without asking voter approval of a bond issue.

Although the county has the right to cancel the lease in any year, and to pull out of the office building, Lagiss is claiming there is no intention to do so.

MEANWHILE, District Attorney John Nejedly told the board of supervisors Tuesday they could go ahead on the project if they felt they could win the suit.

He said he thought the county's financial arrangements for the building were legal.

The building, one of the largest in the county, will house the supervisors' chambers, the county administrator, the public works, civil service, and social service departments.

MANY OF the offices which would be moved to the new building are now housed temporarily in rented property in Martinez and Richmond, or are jammed into small space in existing county buildings.

Model A to Take Place In Spotlight

Mal Stanley of Walnut Creek and B. A. Pricer of Orinda are among the 65 members of the Bay Area Chapter of the Model A Ford Club of America which will hold its national convention in San Francisco on June 29 for four days.

The two local "Model A buffs" said more than 25 cars have already signed up to make a cross country tour from New York, leaving June 20 and making the 3,085-mile trip at driving speeds of 45-50 mph.

Additional cars will join the caravan as it travels cross-country. Other tours are being lined up from the southwest and northwest parts of the nation.

How obedience to divine law brings human redemption will be explained Sunday at Christian Science church services.
Featured in the scriptural passages to be read is the story of Jonah. The lesson-sermon is entitled "Everlasting Punishment."

This selection will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 184): "Truth, Life and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statutes."

Trip for Canyon Kids Is Fun While Learning

By GLADYS SHALLY
It was a seven-day school week for the upper grades of Canyon School last week. But there was no complaining, in fact the fourth through the eighth grades could hardly wait for Saturday to come to start their visual education tour of the Mother Lode country.

Charles Wiles, teacher of the "Big Room," believes his pupils should be brought closer to their studies of California geography, geology and history, so planned the trip with the blessings of the local school board.

This is the second overnight grammar school trip in which the school has participated, the first was in May of 1954 when some 36 students and adults traveled by chartered bus through the Mother Lode and the state capital.

SATURDAY at 7 a.m. 19 children reported at the school, ready for their mobile classes. The trip was by private cars with adult leaders including Wiles, Mmes Wiles, Ben Bradley, Richard Ellison and Minnie Cannon; also Kenneth Avelino and Larry Williams.

Williams, a school board member, opened his mountain home for the overnight stay. He, with Mrs. Williams, had previously mapped out a tentative itinerary. Money to finance the trip had been earned by the youngsters, mostly at their Halloween Carnival last fall.

THE CAVALCADE's first stop was near John Muir's home. On the way through Marsh Creek canyon they passed for a close-up look of rock formations and a view of the Diablo mines. The road took them, on their way to Stockton, across the islands where they marveled at the deltas which held rivers higher than the surrounding land.

After a visit to the Port of Stockton, the party traveled to Hogan Dam near Valley Springs, and there ate their sack lunches.

Next stop was a Murphy's where the traveling students got their first view of what remained of the real old west at the Murphys' Museum. After a visit to a lapidary display came their most exciting experience (according to most): a trip through Merced's Caverns, an underground hike through strange formations.

The cars arrived at Meadowmont (near Arnold) toward evening, but not for their occupants to rest. There was something for all to do.

potatoes, tossed salad, milk and coffee. Others unloaded sleeping bags, etc.

After dinner, the clean-up committee took over, this being the most difficult subject in the students' curriculum. It was not reported which lucky ones occupied the seven beds the cabin offered, but sleeping bags were strewn over most of the floor space upstairs and down, with a number of hardy souls sleeping out-of-doors.

After a breakfast (which included five dozen eggs, scrambled) prepared by another team and a complete cabin clean-up job, the party took off for higher country and the snow. The high point here was the snowball battle, adults versus students.

Next the group visited the Calaveras Big Trees, lunched, and enjoyed a walk under the tall old giants.

BACK DOWN the Murphys grade, then taking the winding Parrots Ferry Road, the by-now seasoned travelers arrived at Columbia's famous candy store, to buy candy fashioned like stones and crystals.

The route home took the cavalcade through Sonora and after the usual number of traveling hours had elapsed, arrived back home. For there was school the next morning!

The peripatetic pupils were: Reene and Keith Bradley, David and Nancy Cullison, Donna Menge, Jeff Melcher, Egl Bat-chelor, Sherry and Kathy Black, Joe and Kitty Lynch, Tony Avelino, Jono Cannon, Michael and David Bradley, Lorraine Ellison, Pierre Reiter, Chris Price and Mike Day.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

The Merry, Merry Month of May...

'TIS THE SEASON for May poles, May flowers, May bees... and all that jazz.

One thing about spring in these parts: parents need not invest in "The Saga of the Birds and the Bees." Children learn firsthand about the arrival of feathered and furry friends. Right under their freckled noses, pups, kittens, lambs, birds, calves, etc. are born.

At the moment, our garage is housing everything but the cars. The last census included: one cat and four kittens; four orphan gopherlets (Mama Cat ate Mama Gopher); one garter snake, with on eye on the golpherlets; and 29 duck eggs in an incubator. Our Rick, 16 today, a product of the scientific sixties, did not believe that Mama Duck was capable of doing the job.

The fringe on the umbrella in the patio has been pecked clean by nesting birds... From the hills, comes the cry of newborn calves... Spring in suburbia is some seminar in sex for small fry.

By the by, it is also a very merry month for people. Like for instance.

ORCHARD DWELLERS had a happy reunion at a recent cocktail party co-hosted by Ruth and Will Van Newhyzen and Ricky and Bill Conlon, next-door neighbors on Pimentel Court. Two out-of-town couples were warmly welcomed on a warm Saturday night at the Conlons'. Former neighbors Berl and Jackie Perisho, here from L.A., were honorees.

Bud and Faye Parker were also on hand. Bud, who was transferred to New York, now has been transferred back. They are again house-hunting in the area—to the delight of their many friends. And to the delight of Viki Parker's fourth-grade classmates.

Among those on hand were Mrs. William Henderson, and Messrs. and Mmes. Don Bryant, Lloyd Torcheio, William Toler, Joseph Base, Vincent Young, Emmett Sullivan, John Costello, Richard Evans, and Cam Ashby.

DRAMATEUR TICKETS for the Moraga Parents Club's night at the Lafayette Town Hall are going fast. "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" promises a unique evening of entertainment.

Particularly those who have not seen one of the Dramateur's polished performances should make every effort to attend.

This is Parents' Club's last fund-raiser before summer vacation. Tickets may be obtained (while they last) by calling Mrs. Sam Rockoff, DR 6-4235 or Mrs. William Harlow, DR 6-5040.

CANYON CAPERS. The Pinehurst Canyon may be relatively small in area and population, but oh, my! Enough news comes out of Canyon to fill a daily... There was an Open House Sunday from 1-3 p.m. for the public (over 50 signed up) to see firsthand why the redwooded sanctuary should be preserved in the June Park Bond Issue. (It is one of nine sites in the $12,500,000 proposed bond.)

A short hike conducted by community club president Mrs. Laurie Williams revealed some of the splendors of the area.

Not on the itinerary was horseshoe bend on Pinehurst Road where cars have been parked regularly for the last three years while the "boys" have parties. Canyon residents have complained to the sheriff's office about "where the boys are" and what they're doing. Pornographic literature, wearing apparel and other residue from their escapades have cluttered up the landscape.

Deputies have taken two attitudes, according to Canyonites: 1) Nothing we can do about it—they don't cause trouble. It's a public road. 2) Glad we don't live here. Whatta perfect place for a murder.

To bid adieu to the tranquil mountain forest hamlet on a high note: A leading TV network sent a representative to Canyon School this week. He was interested in interviewing Mrs. Ruby-ruth Beers, principal and teacher extraordinaire.

In her two-room schoolhouse, Mrs. Beers has given her 16 first-through-fourth graders a well-rounded education. Her students excel in all lines... including (amazingly enough) the 3 R's!

MORAGA LIONS are making a pilgrimage to Hoberg's this week-end to attend the annual convention. The Moraga contingent, ten strong, will beat the drums loudly for their June luau. They are decorating campers, cars and women to publicize the affair.

President John DeGuarda, former Hollywood actor, is still a ham at heart. He has written a skit which he will direct and star in. The title, we think, is "The Aquabellies."

The cast may include any one of the following, who plan to attend: Art and Clare Fleuti; Hank and Trudi Martin; Tom and Gena Carroll; Jack and Pat Neldam; Jack and Daphne Taylor; Bert and Margaret Bennett; John and Betty De Guardia; Bill McElhinney; Bob Athey; Jim and Ceil Barcelon.

One thing for sure—this group will act like a bunch of luau-natics.

LAWYER SAWYER is a splendid addition to the Moraga School Board. Ted is a U.C. grad, Phi Beta, lawyer, retired naval officer and former director for the Orinda Association... to mention a few of his accolades. He lives on Draeger Drive with wife Deedee and their three children, two pre-schoolers.

With the addition of little Billy, the Sawyers are planning to build a larger home on the other side of Moraga Road.

Ted joins five other fine trustees: Dr. Leonard Morgenstern, Robert Amber, Al Haskell and Rex Collings, clerk of the board.

No picnic, this job. The hours are unlimited. The appreciation, quite limited. It can only be a genuine dedication to improving the Moraga school system that leads these busy, successful men to devote so much time, and to often receive in return only criticism.

Among the many things discussed at the last board meeting, which lasted until nearly midnight, was heterogeneous grouping for students in kindergarten through sixth grade next year. At the seventh and eighth grade level, grouping will be both within and between classes. There will be a smaller "slow" group than "fast," as Dist. Supt. William Knight explained that the quicker students need less supervision, are more self-reliant.

Camino Pablo Principal Charles Toll introduced the programming data cards which will be filled out for each student. Groupings will be based on the results of these cards, which cover all areas of a student's abilities.

CORRECTION: RHEEM SCHOOL Principal Robert Trask was incorrectly identified last week. More summer school sign-ups are needed. It will be at Rheem School. Mothers Unite!

THE CENTENNIAL of St. Mary's College will be celebrated next year. Jumping the gun... a style show tomorrow on the campus given by the St. Mary's College Guild... the 12:30 luncheon and fashions saluting 100 years at the college.

PLANS APLENTY. The Rheem brothers, Richard and Donald, (with Whitaker and Baxter's cooperation) should be making the front page this week. We're awaiting official announcement of the latest colossal project for their Rheem, California Land Development Company.

Buster Marini, experienced Hayward restaurateur, is figuring to open the ill-fated open air Le Val's as a steak house. Those on the hill who lost sleep apiently when Le Val's became a teenage rock 'n' roll haven will be relieved to know that Buster plans to put a roof on the place. That will give the kids' parents something to raise.

History Lesson: The 'Diggers' Were Here

By GLADYS SHALLY

The western Contra Costa Indian was considered low man on the intelligence pole.

Known as "Diggers" of the Costanoan group, these peaceful, semi-nomadic tribes occupied an area roughly from Lafayette to the redwoods.

They actually were the Acalanes tribe, the name possibly the Spanish pronunciation of their village "Ahala-n", which was located somewhere near Lafayette.

An old unmarked map also shows two other Indian villages, one near Redwood Peak and the other in the Kaiser Creek vicinity.

THERE IS not too much known about our Acalanes tribe. Few artifacts have been found.

The name "Digger" was earned because they supposedly had no tools or implements, mortars, but dug with sticks for roots, worms, bulbs, etc.

It is an oddity, then, that several artifacts have been found in recent years in the redwood area: Two mortars, one of native creek sandstone, two large flint arrowheads, and a quantity of very small purple shells, some pierced.

Could they have belonged to the Acalanes? Or perhaps the Yokuts of the valley and eastern Contra Costa?

Did Indians from the Napa obsidian quarries travel to the redwoods to hunt?

Perhaps they were after colored clay or minerals with which all Indians decorated their bodies. Who knows?

DESCRIPTIONS of Indians who lived in this locality are meager—and varied, and for the most part detrimental.

Only one person, Captain Pedro Fages, in his account of San Francisco Bay Indians written in 1772 that the "Indians were graceful of figure and form and that both men and women were taller than ordinary."

But the majority of historians reported our "coast people" as "utterly depraved, squalid, dark and bestially lazy."

Even in Slocum's History of Contra Costa County, the historian remarks that when the Caucasians came to this coast they found "the district now known as Contra Costa—infestated by a horde of these rude barbarians."

However, Dr. Robert F. Heizer of the University of California, an authority on western Indians along with Frank Quinn, Indian affairs field worker from Sacramento, agree that our California Indians were the most maligned and mistreated of all American natives, and that they have been recorded with gross injustice.

JOHN MARSH, from his accounts, had small use for our "Digger" Indian. He wrote that if all Indians were but grown-up children, then the Contra Costa Indians were a "race of infants."

Some doubt his claim that he had seen "hundreds of them grazing in a meadow like so many cattle." They could have been gathering seed or tender green plant shoots.

Marsh's description of the natives was that they were "stoutly built, heavy-limbed, and hairy, including beards." He further stated that some had "that peculiar conformation of the eye so remarkable in the Chinese..." He also mentioned their language was a deep guttural, not unlike the Chinese.

His latter statements bear out the findings of a Dr. Shaw, missionary to China, who in 1890 claimed to have found in ancient archives in central China, the personal narrative of one Hee-li, who was a captain of a small coastal junk.

In 217 B.C. (our time) with a crew of 10 men, he was blown out to sea during a storm, and after almost four months of ocean sailing, landed as a "great bay" and there saw "great trees, a glorious climate and friendly natives."

He thought his "infallible compass" pointed homeward, but a cockroach had become lodged under the needle.

Where else could this be but San Francisco Bay and the huge redwoods of the Oakland hills. (Until they were cut tall redwoods on the hill tops were used as a guide for vessels sailing into the Golden Gate).

Historians tell us that during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries at least 60' Oriental craft visited the Pacific Coast. So why wouldn't our Indians have that peculiar conformation of the eyes?"

DO TO THE Costanoan's lack of agriculture and pottery, they have been marked a "low type of inferior culture."

But, as Dr. Heizer points out, they had no need to learn to till the fields. Nature provided bountifully for them. Acorns, containing fat, carbohydrate and protein, were the most important item of their diet, and they had a very highly developed technique in gathering, storing and preparing acorns.

The Indians learned to leach the bitterness and tannic acid from acorns and the poison from buckeyes. Their knowledge of edible and medicinal use of natural vegetation is unsurpassed today.

Their food consisted of anything (unpoisonous) that grew, crawled, walked or swam, and must have sufficed, for they lived an untold number of years in this manner before the white man came to spoil their Utopian fields.

We should not judge their culture because of the food they ate—some people today like frog legs, snails and fish eggs.

Our natives could not have been lazy, experts now tell us, the greatest part of their time was spent gathering and storing food. It must have taken a great deal of skill to trap animals and birds. Fishing was easy, they merely threw the crushed bulk of a certain plant on a pool to stupefy the fish.

They used a great deal of deer hide—perhaps antelope and elk as well, for they roamed in large herds many years ago.

CLOTHING was no problem. In summer the women usually wore nothing but short grass or tule aprons and tattoos, with the addition of skins in winter.

The men sometimes wore loin skins, but usually, along with the children, wore nothing!

If it was cold, they might plaster mud over their nakedness for warmth. This remained on until it wore off, or perhaps was removed during a visit to a temescal, or sweat-house.

With the establishment of the missions in California, it was not long before their idyllic life ceased.

But the Indians did not take well to mission life. Although all agree that in their natural state, our Diggers were exceedingly dirty, then they could simply burn their crudely constructed wigwags when they became too filthy.

But crowded into mission yards was another story.

Vancouver, after a visit to San Francisco, said of their living conditions: "—abominably infested with every kind of filth and nastiness."

According to mission records it is estimated that there was a loss of 72 per cent of the Indian population.

Within a few decades after the coming of the whites, over 90 per cent of our California Indians were dead of disease, violence, starvation and general mistreatment. The cholera epidemic of 1933 took a large percentage, as did smallpox.

Gabriel Moraga, father of Joaquin who became grantee to the Moraga Rancho Laguna de los Palos Colorados, earned the reputation of being the greatest Indian fighter of his time.

It was also his unpleasant duty to round up new recruits to herd to the missions, and also to capture escapees who were punished by flogging.

ONE EARLY Spanish historian in mentioning that while "the natives had been reduced to obedience" and took part in mission life, they still retained many of their former customs, remarking especially of one habit: "in their leisure moments, they will lie on the ground face downwards for whole hours with the greatest content."

With secularization in 1834, the Indian became "free."

Here again John Marsh draws a picture: He wrote that (Indian) "children when caught young are most easily domesticated, and manifest a great aptitude to learn—"

Also that "should a white family take up a farm near an Indian village, soon they had a whole tribe for serfs." He even stated "that they submitted to flogging with more humility than the Negro!"

NOW EXTINCT, our Contra Costa "Diggers" were a rarity by 1880.

According to an old gentleman who has since passed on to his happy hunting ground, at the turn of the century there was an "Indian Mary" living in a shack in Indian Valley.

How should we think of them? Which historian should we believe?

Were our Indians graceful and friendly or were they squalid and brutish? Who is to say that theirs was a wasted, listless life or that they lived to die with no great accomplishments to mark their passing.

Perhaps "we of the higher type who wrestle with the inevitable almost from our infancy to our dotage know!"

David Boulware Elected Harvard Junior Fellow

President Nathan M. Pusey recently announced the election of eight young scientists and scholars including one from Lafayette as Junior Fellows of Harvard University's unique Society of Fellows.

The new Junior Fellows—from homes in California, Illinois, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania—will have three years of freedom at Harvard to use the university's resources as they choose in their own field of interest.

Most of them will be working in Harvard laboratories and libraries.

THE SOCIETY of Fellows provides each man with the facilities necessary for his studies, and a stipend of $3500 to $5500 each year.

David G. Boulware of Lafayette will study theoretical physics. Boulware, born in Oakland, received his A.B. degree from the University of California (Berkeley) in 1958 and the A.M. from Harvard in 1960. He is now a student at the University of California.

Miramonte Program Gives Opportunities for All

Miramonte High School held open house Monday night in observance of Public Schools Week. Families and friends of students saw first-hand that Miramonte's general education program offers opportunity for all.

With national emphasis placed on college board exams, the raising of college entrance requirements, tuition costs mounting, etc., public attention is often diverted from the fact that preparation for college is just one of the educational goals receiving the attention of our high schools.

MIRAMONTE HIGH is a case in point: Along with classes in advanced foreign language, science or math—the usual courses associated with college prep requirements—courses in "general education" are an important part of the student's opportunity to get a "well-rounded education."

General education classes include a broad variety of subjects which offer something for those students who aren't planning for college as well as those who are. Among these courses are classes in typing, clothing (sewing), music (band, chorus, orchestra), arts and crafts, auto shop, wood shop, mechanical drawing, and electricity.

AT MIRAMONTE HIGH and the other Acalanes District high schools (Acalanes, Del Valle, Las Lomas, Campolindo), both college and non-college bound students are encouraged to fit general education courses into their program.

School officials explained that none of "these courses is designed to qualify a student for immediate employment as an auto mechanic, seamstress, or draftsman. The courses instead give the student an opportunity to explore basic skills. With the experience gained working at these skills, the student can then decide which of the vocational areas offer the most excitement.

BASIC AUTO mechanics, typing ability, shorthand, wood-working, and other abilities are of value to anyone in our modern society," Miramonte principal Jim Lewis observes in discussing aspects of the general education program.

Lewis reports that student enrollment in general education courses is "consistently high." Of the 1325 students at Miramonte, 390 are taking courses in business education (typing, shorthand, office machines, business law); 176 are enrolled in home economics (clothing, foods, home management); 445 students, approximately one third of the school's enrollment, are taking courses in shop (wood, mechanical drawing, basic electricity, auto); 175 are studying music; 200 are working in crafts and fine arts.

LELAND RUSSELL, assistant superintendent for education in the Acalanes Union High School District, points out that with the junior college movement there is a trend away from technical education in high school. "Essentially, high schools teach 'industrial arts' (general exploration in skills). The junior college builds on this basic experience by providing technical competence which qualifies the student for employment."

"Technical educational programs at the high school level are extremely costly for the smaller number of students usually involved. Giving a student an opportunity to explore various technical - vocational skills while in high school, and following that up with an intensive specific training program in post-high school courses at the junior college, is the best way we know of to handle the diverse interests of students. These vary from a desire to become a physicist to an ambition to be a crack auto mechanic."

RUSSELL OBSERVED that offerings in the school program that range from advanced math to beginning sewing reflect the term "comprehensive" that is used to describe the modern "comprehensive high schools" in the Acalanes District.

"We think that general education subjects offer every student a chance to experience a useful liberal education, no matter what their vocational goals may be," Russell concluded.

Mrs. Dorr to Give Drama Reading

Mrs. John Dorr, formerly of Orinda, will be honored guest at the Garden Tea May 11, given by members of Linden Junior Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Mrs. Dorr will give a dramatic book review for her many friends, members of the branch and their guests. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bush, 38 Oakwood Road, Orinda, will provide the setting.

Branch chairman Mrs. N. J. Parker, 9 Rose Lane, Orinda, will be hostess for the afternoon. The tea is planned for 1:30 p.m. until 3:30.

For further information or reservations, call CL 4-2182.

Joe Longacre was program chairman.

A special guest of Clarence Betz was William Bates, assistant general plant manager of Andy's Copper Mining in Port Rerilos, Chili.

Post Office Is Now Moved to New Quarters

Official clearance was finally obtained, and the Orinda Post Office moved to its new quarters at 33 Orinda Way, yesterday.

The spacious and modern new facility is part of the post office department's unique commercial leasing plan which calls for the property remaining under private ownership and paying local taxes.

DEDICATION ceremonies and open house, as previously announced by Postmaster Laura Mallary, will be held May 12 at 3 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Mallary invites all residents to visit the building and grounds. There will be special exhibits, including: a miniature submarine and a model of the Thor missile. The Orinda Garden Club, the Orinda Republican Womens Club, the Orinda Fire Department, the color guard from the naval reserve unit and a 40-piece high school band will participate in the ceremonies.

At a recent director's meeting of the chamber, the final touches were put on the dedication program, according to Ken Court-right, president of the C of C. Among those present at the meeting were nominee-elect, Al Amatone; William Brannon, director; Mrs. Mallary, and Fire Chief Allen Winsor.

ORIGINALLY a substitution of the Berkeley Post Office, the Orinda Post Office was located in Phair's Orinda Store. The present office was first established in 1945. It was located in the Vashell Building on Moraga Way.

Larger quarters were soon needed. In 1951 the post office was moved to the building owned by Donald Rheem at 231 Brookwood Road.

CONSTRUCTION of the new office was contracted for under the previous administration in Washington. It has been completed as part of an accelerated program of construction and modernization under President Kennedy.

It is part of Kennedy's plan to stimulate the nation's economy, and to assist Postmaster General Day in his program to provide the nation with the finest postal service possible.

This meeting will be followed up with a mobilization later this spring involving Sea Explorers, the Air Squadron and all Explorer posts.

Highway Advisory Group Presents Road Proposals

Three freeway requests were presented to the county board of supervisors last week by the county's highway advisory committee along with other roads in the city-county thoroughfare system.

A request for work to start in 1963 on Highway 4 through Franklin Canyon, south of Martinez, and east to Willow Pass Road was asked.

Construction of Highway 21 south from Danville to the county line was recommended. Construction of the freeway from Walnut Creek as far as Danville is already slated to start this year.

CONSTRUCTION was asked for the freeway from Solano Way in Concord north to Highway 4. Freeway from Pleasant Hill to Solano Way will start this year.

The highway advisory committee is made up of representatives of cities, chambers of commerce, neighborhood organizations and other groups in the county.

The group also made a list of recommended priorities for county roads to be built with city-county thoroughfare funds.

TOP OF THE list was given to the widening of Taylor Boule-

Miramonteans Welcome Sunny New May Month

By KITTY MIKA AND ANN LINCOLN

Much is in store for Miramonteans in this sunny new month, including such things as dances, beach parties, and all kinds of spur-of-the-moment activities.

Last Saturday everyone lost one precious hour of sleep to bring in Day Light Savings Time, and it seemed there were quite a few sleepy heads stumbling into school Monday morning—could one hour make that much difference???

Another of St. Stephan's famous dances was held Friday night, although, for a change, there seemed to be an abundance of boys. Some of those who arrived stag, or in couples to dance and talk were Paul McChesney, Pam Pearson, Mike Chance, Mike McQuaid, Grigg DeWitt, Bob Williams, John Reilly, Pat Barnes, and many others.

It seems, on the other hand, that all the MHS girls flocked to the Orinda Theater and howled through "One Two Three" and "A Pocket Full of Miracles." Wendy Wilcox and Jane White were having a little trouble with two girls in front of them. Carol Goldsmith, Linnet Trefts, Mary Baker, Sherry Odenthal, and Nancy Bregar sat concentrating on those "lucky apples." Anne White and Sally Wright were more out of their seats than in them.

Some of the others packed into the show were Kay Dunbar, Fran Obrecht, Nancy Shover, Karen Nattress and Dan Withers, Chris Conner and Bob Miller, and Jackie Villata and Skip Spach.

The Dianias introduced their new members at a dinner party at Pat Kelly's. Hot dogs and potato salad topped the menu and swimming was supposed to be included on the agenda, but there was a slight weather problem—these spring showers.

The new members did a few skits, and Cherie Jackson, Carol Mansonen, Diane Moss, Patti Anderson, Betty Tranberg, Barbara Shuster, and Mary Schofer all were great successes, but we hear that Susie Caldwell stole the show. Rick Merriam, Robin Alvarez, Pete Parrish and Jake Jacobsen came, minus invitations, and gave the new members a dunking—rain or no rain.

Saturday night was party night at Gary Holtwick's, and it was really quite a party!! Among the many senior couples there were Gary and Nancy Henry, Toni Ayres and Rick Merriam, Chris Felchlin and Julie Winkworth, Mary Baker and Brad Peter, Nancy Englehard and Mike McQuaid, Judy Hopkins and Mike Rolley, Jeanette Miller and Cecil Crutchfield, Tara Doty and Pete Parrish, and Carol Gilmore and Rich Bedayan.

It seems that there was a little rough-housing going on—Grigg DeWitt flipped Mike McQuaid. The scent of Woodhull perfume literally reeked through the house—even the boys got doused.

Steve Miller and Jim Rose drove up to Alpine Meadows last Sunday for a day of skiing and they sure seemed to choose the right day. The skiing was great and the sun shining—just take a look at Steve's blistered face.

It appears that "Experiment in Terror" is the movie to see. Even the morning after, you wake up with a pit in your stomach. If you want to hear the whole story ask Marc Jacobs and John Walker, Sherry Odenthal and Dwight Thompson, or Joanne Warner and Ron Kay. After seeing the movie, Joanne and Ron visited all the places in San Francisco where it was filmed—pretty creepy huh??

The baseball team tied Acalanes which makes the Matadors tied with our arch rivals for first place in the league. The Mats will get a chance to trounce the Dons later in the season.

Thursday was the big day for MHS sophomores and juniors. The electricity filled the air all day long, and nerves were snapping everywhere. As the names of the new pom pon girls for 1962-63 were read, tears of joy and other tears, too, filled the gym—what an experience. The new pom pon girls are Karen Stafford, Jackie Edenhorn, Mary Hansen, Allison Stampely, Fran Obrecht, Crissy Voll, Joan Dereks, and Carol Meyer. Congratulations to all!!

As fall approaches, plans for college are in full swing. A certain group of girls is really looking forward to September and heading toward San Jose State. Sue Nattress, Sharon Nielsen, Linnet Trefts, Wendy Wilcox, and Jo-an Scholberg are all sharing an apartment next year. Can you imagine the work they're going to get done??

Capital Improvements Needed, Says McBrien

An additional $2 million worth of capital improvements a year and about $40 million worth of roads is needed by Contra Costa County right now County Administrator J. P. McBrien told the board of supervisors Tuesday.

He said that before 1970, a new major office building will be needed in addition to the 12-story administration building annex to be started soon in Martinez.

The second building will be needed to "accommodate additional departments of the Superior Court, and to provide for the continuing growth of county offices," the report on capital funds and improvement states.

McBrien noted that during the past few years the percentage of the budget devoted to capital works has dropped from 15 per cent to 10 per cent of the total budget.

Warning that the needs will become greater as time passes and the county grows, he advised that an extra $2 million a year will have to be spent on capital works to bring the condition back to normal.

He recommended for financing the county roads that a $25-million bond issue be placed on the November ballot, or at a special election in the spring of 1963.

HE PROPOSED the bond issue last year, but study of which road projects should be included has delayed matters, while the $7½ million park bond issue was placed on the June 5 ballot.

McBrien also suggested a $3,850,000 bond issue for county buildings on the November ballot.

The bond issues would put the county near its legal limit on bonded indebtedness on the present assessed valuation.

Public hearings to discuss his proposals and to make suggestions for financing should be held, McBrien said.

THE COUNTY hospital merged as the one bright spot in the whole expensive picture, McBrien said.

Major changes in medical treatment have forced a change in proposed developments at the hospital. More patients are being treated for a shorter period of time, and more chronic patients are being placed in nursing homes.

Among the immediate needs listed in the report were the county administration building, already approved; enclosure of the bottom floor of the county health department, for which federal funds are approved; a $1 million addition to the Richmond office building; a $800,000 office building next to the juvenile hall, and changes in the hall of records.

THE BUILDING near the juvenile hall would house several service departments, including weights and measures.

Mormon Church To Break Ground For New Chapel

Ground-breaking services, rained out last week, marking the commencement of construction of the Lafayette-Orinda Ward Chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) will be held at Chapel Hill, Moraga Road, tomorrow at 1 p.m.

The site is two miles south of Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

County, community and church officials will participate in the ceremony, under the direction of Bishop E. Y. Wells and his counselors, Richard W. Holmes and Dr. M. Donald Merrill.

County Supervisor Mel Nielsen, Joseph Hammond, representing the Lafayette veterans organization, Bishop Owen Collett, Thomas Ferguson and Kenneth Jensen, president of the Walnut Creek Stake of the church, will also take part.

In a statement issued by William Powell, Orinda, chairman of the building committee, he said that the structure will cover 15,000 square feet, have a seating capacity of 350, a large recreation hall for basketball, dancing, drama and other youth activities, 20 classrooms, as well as parking facilities for more than 175 cars.

The total cost of the project will exceed $325,000.

While the entire construction project is expected to take 10 months, the local church unit intends to make use of the partially completed chapel late this year.

Take Trip to S.F. Chinatown

A third grade of the Orinda High School spent Monday touring Chinatown in San Francisco. They were transported by a school bus.

They were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Audrey Dochtermann, who directed the tour, and three mothers, Mrs. George Dodge, Mrs. Dwight Partell, and Mrs. Harold Johansen.

During the morning the children viewed the famous temple, "The Chow Kong," which is dedicated to the God of War.

400 Scouts 'Camp Out'

Four hundred boys and leaders attended Or-La-Mo District Boy Scout Camporee held at Grass Valley in the Redwood Regional Park last weekend.

The camporee was highlighted with 10 field events and an evening campfire of stunts, skits, songs and stories conducted by Tom Clarke, scoutmaster of troop 212, Moraga.

Twenty scout troops with 66 patrols from Orinda, Lafayette and Moraga camped overnight at the big trees campsite.

John McBride, district camping chairman, claims the outing to be the biggest and best the district has ever had.

The top three patrols at the camporee were: First place, rattlesnake patrol of troop 204, Lafayette; second place, raven patrol, troop 247, Orinda; third place, rams patrol, troop 244, Orinda.

THE CAMPOREE closed at 9 a.m. Sunday with awarding of ribbons to each patrol participating.

The top patrols in each event were:

1. Tent pitching (nine patrols getting top score)—Troop 204—Hawks, Rattlesnake patrols; 207—Blackfeet, Cheyenne; 218—Hawks; 235—Panther; 237—Silver Fox; 244—Flaming Arrow, Rams.

2. Rope tying (12 patrols getting top score)—Troop 204—Hawks, Rattlesnake, Panther; 207—Cheyenne; 210—Rattlesnake patrol of troop 204, Lafayette; 223—Blackfeet; 224—Panther; 233—Panther, Eagles, Vultures; 243—Falcons; 237—snake.

9. SIGNALING (12 patrols with top score)—Troop 204—Rattlesnake, Panther; 207—Blackfeet; 235—Panther; 237—Rattlesnake; 244—Rams; 247—Ravens, Hawks.

10. First aid (11 patrols with top score)—Troop 204—Rattlesnakes, Panther, Pelicans; 207—Cheyenne; 218—Hawks; 223—Apache, Blackfeet; 224—Panther; 241—Eagle, Rattlesnakes; 243—Falcons.

Who Swiped the Sign?

"Pasture or playground?" The Sun asked April 20 in its lead story regarding the use of the Orinda Association Land.

The next day, a sign which had recently been posted to identify the association's land, mysteriously disappeared.

FRIDAY, a makeshift sign was put in its place. "Cows Want Pasture" it said in crude white letters on a red background.

The original sign had only been up a short while before it was stolen. It was used to identify the association's 10 acres of land on Camino Pablo, adjacent to the crossroads.

It was the first time in the 15 years that the association has owned the land (in two different locations) that it has been identified. Directors Eric Nielsen, Harry Fledderman, Jack Cutter and Bruce Hoffe gave up a Saturday morning to hike the rugged terrain and dig the post holes to plant the sign.

"And it cost $28," President Nielsen said sadly.

Tomorrow the directors will again trek up the mountainside to remove the makeshift sign, which Nielsen described as "a disgrace and an eyesore."

The association has no clues as to the culprit's identity. It was assumed that it was the work of teen-agers.

The Sun received a typewritten letter, signed only "The Nocturnal," which may provide a clue. Addressed to: "Gentlemen of the Orinda Association and of The Sun," The Nocturnal's complete text follows:

"This letter is in regards to your plans for building on forest land. Many people today have no alternative except to destroy."

To destroy beautiful woodlands and put buildings in their place is progress so important as to put an end to our natural beauty. We, the people of Orinda, have watched it grow. We have seen new development and new ideas. We have witnessed the beautiful Catholic Church put into place. We have seen the freeway put in, and we have watched the Safeway Store erected. This gentlemen is my point.

"I have two sides in regards you."

to your building a community center. One is a point you all thrive on. It would make a place for community affairs such as dances, recreation, and meetings. A very good point, I might add, but hardly conservative.

"My second side is on behalf of the woods. If you go through with you plan you will take a beautiful section of land away. Of course you will replace it with stone, concrete and structure. This is sickening in the eyes of many people. Why not build a park and leave the woods intact? If you did this you wouldn't have to destroy. You would get the same enjoyment and more. This gentlemen is the main key to progress. "Natural Beauty." I leave the rest up to

Youth Employment Needs Central Office

The problem of finding our young people jobs during the summer has been tackled by various local groups over the years, but a real solution has never been found.

Although the sporadic efforts have provided many youths with jobs, only a small percentage of those who need this valuable experience have been helped.

The answer is the establishment of a central clearing house, that is, a central point, conveniently located, with office, phone and personnel, where boys and girls wanting jobs apply in person.

THIS CENTRAL office should also be well known to all local employers who can then make their needs for summer workers known.

There is a state employment office at St. Mary's College in Moraga, but its services have been used mainly by St. Mary's students and other college age youths.

The local groups, including the Walnut Creek and Lafayette Rotarians, have undertaken programs for youth summer employment in cooperation with local schools, but, although many jobs were found, the programs were limited in their scope.

The establishment of a central office would not be possible without the co-operative effort of a number of service clubs, or the help of some existing over-all volunteer agency.

WE FEEL SURE that the office space in an easily located area could be found, and The Sun is willing to assist in finding this space.

Once the office is provided and manned, then it would be necessary to launch a program to inform both the young people and the businesses seeking summer workers that the new service is available.

Comments on Jury Reports Need Time

The 1961 law requiring county supervisors and officials involved to publicly comment within a specified time on county grand jury reports is an excellent law. And a new suggestion by County Administrator J. P. McBrien will assist in meeting the law's requirements.

McBrien has persuaded the supervisors to adopt a resolution requesting that the county grand jury committee reports be filed with the county clerk immediately after they are approved by jury members.

Traditionally, the various committee reports have been made a part of the jury's composite annual report, delaying their publication until the last report is ready.

Such a delay would make it more difficult for the supervisors and administrators to take the necessary time to examine the reports, prior to their deadline for commenting on the reports, which is 30 days after the jury is disbanded.

The current grand jury will serve until June 30, allowing 30 days for the public comment required by an amendment to the State Penal Code.

McBrien's adopted procedure will give the affected officials more than 30 days to prepare their public comments.

The state amendment is an excellent answer to the problems in many counties where the grand jury reports are painstakingly prepared, submitted to the county and carefully filed, never to see the light of day again. This has happened in Contra Costa.

Administrator McBrien has also adopted an excellent policy of himself commenting on the grand jury reports, and these comments have been invaluable in the past.

The Staff Corner

The Needy Sick ...

By GEORGE COLBURN

A short time ago there was some controversy about the county's "lien policy" when a person becomes a medical patient of the county. It's part of the county's welfare program—which many people don't like.

Many complaints about the policy were heard at two public hearings a few months back—and some changes in the policy were made as a result of these hearings.

However, the lien policy was continued. The board of supervisors voted to retain it, deeming it absolutely necessary.

The general outline of the policy makes it necessary for all welfare cases who benefit from county mental and physical medical services to sign a lien.

BASICALLY, here is the way the county helps the needy sick:

Under state law, Contra Costa County, as must all California counties, provide care of the indigent sick and dependent poor. The board of supervisors establish rules and regulations for the operation of the county hospital which cares for these persons.

Following appraisal of the applicant's need for care, an economic survey is made. The question is asked—"is private, medical and hospital service out of the person's financial reach?"

If the survey answer is affirmative, it must be determined whether or not he (or she) is indigent or medically indigent. The survey then attempts to determine if the patient is able to pay for his county medical care in whole or in part.

The family's income is factually measured against a basic allowance which includes $75 for rent or $97 for a homeowner; $25 for utilities and $50 for food per man ($40 for woman, $40 for child and $35 per infant). All these figures are "ceiling." There are allowances made for transportation up to $50 per month if no public transportation is available to work and to place of medical treatment.

THE APPLICANT must have no property, other than that in which the family is resident, which could be used as an available resource to pay for all or part of the medical care.

The lien or reimbursement agreement is obtained from each adult patient and spouse or from the parents if the patient is a minor.

In the event an adult patient is mentally incapacitated or otherwise unable to sign the agreement, the spouse or guardian would be asked to sign (mental health services are available at the county hospital).

The applicant as well must have no stocks, bonds, savings or other valuables which could be liquidated for payment of medical care.

An allowance of $500 for burial expenses is made if there is no insurance or other means of burial except by the county.

Making payments on personal luxury items would make a person ineligible automatically for county medical services. However, debts on furniture and medical bills are allowed.

EACH responsible relative (spouse, parent and adult child of applicant) is investigated as to their ability to pay in whole or in part for the medical services requested.

The duration of the patient's eligibility for county services is strictly on an individual basis.

The property lien will be enforced only upon the death of the lienor or upon the sale of the property. Repaying the county for services on an installment plan which does not handicap the patient is the common way to pay off the lien.

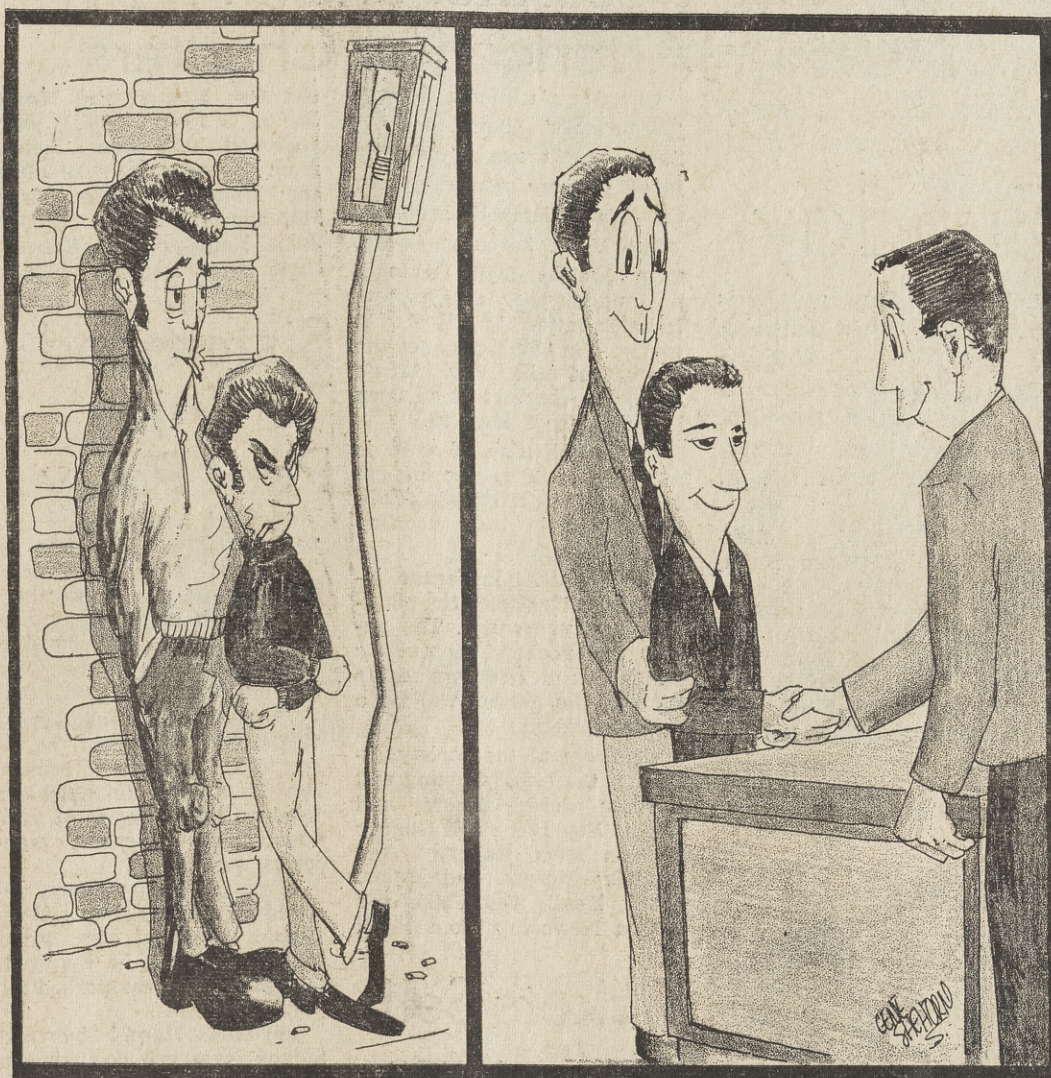

In the recommended actions of the county administrator to the board of supervisors earlier this month were three authorizations regarding county liens against property taken to secure repayment of cost of medical services provided by the county hospital.

FOR ONE, repayment had been made in full; another was for the county to advertise for bids on property of a deceased patient, and the third was a cancellation that enabled a person to refinance her home to avoid foreclosure. A new reimbursement agreement was signed and was to be recorded as a lien against the property that was refinanced. The person received no money in the transaction.

The county feels that it has a good, workable program.

You've just read the main points of it. Think about it!

We Like It Here... On Being Found Behind a Lilac Bush One Morning

By MARIE MONAHAN

I HAVE a confession to make. Shhhh. Don't tell ANYBODY... but I garden in my nightgown.

The sun comes up, the pipes of Pan I hear & before I know it, there I am in lounging robe & llama slippers tripping (literally!) through the tulips.

ESPECIALLY after seeing the California Spring Garden Show. I have absolutely NO resistance!

All of a sudden I decide MY garden is going to look like that!

I finally decided that my choice of gardening garb is purely psychological.

YOU SEE, if I wait till the house is organized, till the baby's asleep or till I've time to don more practical denim duds, then something else comes up & I never DO get out with the daisies.

THIS way I get there as I can, while I can.

Even if it means getting caught in the act. Like when the Insurance Man or a friend comes to call & I hide behind a bush scarcely breathing so they'll think no one's home.

I've lost more friends that way. I've also picked up a terrible cast of poison oak to boot, leaping blinding out of view from early visitors.

ABODE dirt & gold kid things do not go well together. I've lost more nice slippers that way, too!

But I can't help myself. Honestly! It's like being hypnotized.

THE MAN at the garden show told me MY garden could look like that if I'd feed the plants regularly.

I told him that it was all I could do to keep my FAMILY fed.

Not to mention the domestic menagerie around here.

IF I'm not boiling up red sugar syrup for the hummingbird feeders, I'm filling the wild-bird feeders with seed.

Or scattering toast crumbs to the bluejays...

The man said that EVERYTHING in the garden needed regular feeding.

SO DO I, said I. But I guess I can bypass breakfast & lunch once in awhile to see that the flora & fauna are well-fed.

After fixing five breakfasts, I'm hardly hungry anyway. That is, I suspect, the reason for my undoing. Or not dressing.

I plant Baby in her playpen on the deck & then with a cup of coffee in hand, waltz down the primrose path to see how the garden doth grow.

THE NEXT thing you know, I've got a trowel or a hose in hand, a spade underfoot, the sprinklers are going like sixty Roman fountains & I'm drenched right through my drip-dry bathrobe.

My slippers are soiled with mud & my pretty penguin is a mess! Ah, yes! But there's a song in my heart & a hyacinth feeding my soul!

MY garden may not resemble ANY Garden Show, but I find it just as irresistible.

Me? Irresistible?

Does the garden find ME irresistible?

Why, even the flowers turn their heads the other way...

EBMUD IN YOUR EYE!

Dear Editor,

I was very much interested in your article in the April 13 Lafayette Sun quoting Duane Mattison on the proposed Park Bond Issue.

However, I was a little surprised by some of the statements attributed to Mattison.

For example, you quote him as saying "East Bay MUD has always been cooperative on such programs."... I presume that he uses as evidence the hold-up price charged for the lands purchased to date by Contra Costa County.

You also say that Mattison insisted "We have to have the money in hand before we can dicker with anyone about the actual price of any property."

He fails to mention that the county has not made any attempt to "dicker" with EBMUD on the idea of a joint development of the land nor has he "dickered" with EBMUD on the idea that EBMUD has been authorized by law to operate their own recreational program.

In a manner typical of county officials seeking to enlarge their own activities at the expense of the taxpayer, your reporter said in the article, "He pointed out that although the EBMUD land was owned by a public organization, it had been acquired for a definite purpose..."

Not one single county official has brought to the attention of the taxpayers in this county that EBMUD is permitted by the state law under which it was organized to conduct recreational activities and even have the power to assess an additional tax rate, if necessary, to support the conduct of recreational activities separate from those of providing water.

I am certain that an investigation will show that the cost of conducting such recreational activities within the legal organization known as the East Bay Municipal Utility District will be far cheaper than undertaking it in the manner in which Mattison and Contra Costa County are proposing to do.

What Mattison really needs, rather than a mandate from the people to spend money, is a mandate from the people to utilize his best skills to obtain recreational facilities at the least possible cost to the residents of this county.

It would seem to me that your newspaper could, in developing the background for this bond issue, profitably spend some time exploring the legal right of EBMUD to conduct recreational activities—and especially the reasons why they persist in not doing so.

So that it will be clearly understood that I am not opposed to the development of recreational facilities in advance of the population demands of our county, I would like to state that I feel the proposed bond issue should only cover the cost of acquiring and developing those areas that are not yet in the public domain.

I believe that this part of the program is sound and should be approved—but not if it involves the waste of money proposed for purchasing land from EBMUD.

For Whom Are You Going To Vote in the Primary?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Do you know it is less than five weeks until we vote at the June Primary election. The date is Tuesday, June 5, to be exact.

How are you going to vote on the county bond issue—yes or no?

Do you think California should extend Daylight Saving Time one month—through October?

Should we vote yes or no on the various state bond issues?

A four-way race for sheriff

For whom are you going to vote for sheriff? This will probably be the hottest county race. Sheriff Walt Young is being challenged by Vernon "Jack" Conway, Concord city councilman; Constable Allen Rhodes of Danville; and former Sheriff Harry Brown. Let's talk more about this race in a future column or two.

Fighting it out for county tax collector-treasurer are Emmett Hitchcock, on the collector's staff, and Byron Clark of Concord.

For supervisor, district 3 (Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Concord, Martinez), Incumbent Tom Coll is being re-challenged by former Supervisor Ray Taylor. Coll beat Taylor four years ago and this re-match looks interesting.

These are the only three "county" jobs contested. In six other county posts, the incumbents were unopposed for reelection: District Attorney John Nejedly, Assessor Elwin Wanaka, Auditor Howard McNamer, Clerk-recorder Walter Paasch; Coroner-public administrator L. H. Fraser; and Superintendent of Schools Floyd Marchus.

No major battle till November

There's no major fight in the assembly races until the November general election. In the tenth assembly district (Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill and east), Democrat Incumbent Assemblyman Jerome Waldie will face Republican David Fisher of Pleasant Hill. In the eleventh district (which now includes Lafayette and Orinda), Democrat Incumbent John Knox is being challenged by Orinda Republican John Anderson.

A rough-tough fight is promised for the democrat nomination for Congressman. Charles Weidner of Pleasant Hill and Harold Mutnick of Lafayette are the contenders. Republican Incumbent John Baldwin will face one of the two in November.

Governor, Senator, etc.

There are some mighty important races for state and federal offices on the ballot to keep you busy the next few weeks.

The Sun, of course, will print stories and news about the local races and will offer its recommendations in June and November.

But there's nothing like seeing and hearing the candidates.

So—The Sun's Candidates' Night has been scheduled for Wednesday, May 23, 8 p.m., at the Acalanes High Gym. Read further details in The Sun. These candidates' nights have always been worthwhile, so hope to see you there.

CALL A HALT

Dear Editor:

Our nuclear tests in the atmosphere should be halted before we conclude our present series! The Russians were wrong in violating the moratorium last fall. The future generations will suffer from our tests and the Soviet tests.

The air is already dirty enough from past tests on both sides to prove the error of both nations' actions. Peace will not come from our present testing policy.

If we don't both stop, France and Red China will be getting into the act and more and more nations will be contaminating the atmosphere in following their "sovereign" right to defend their security interests.

The time to stop is now, even though the tests have started in the Pacific.

—THOMAS E. KENDALL

BANS MILK

Dear Editor:

This week my family joined with other families across the country who are discontinuing consumption of fresh milk during and somewhat after the period of atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons.

We have carefully checked with public health officials and recognized publications and are persuaded that although the present amount of fallout may constitute a minimal health hazard, at the current rate of atmospheric explosions food contamination and genetic damage will become grave.

The purpose of the milk boycott are several. We want to focus attention on testing contamination particularly as it affects children whose rapid rate of growth makes them many times more vulnerable to poisonous fallout.

We also hope to encourage the dairies to speed up the installation of filtering equipment which can remove Strontium 90 from milk for babies. Finally we hope the dairy industry will add its voice to the many others who are opposing continued atmospheric testing.

—MRS. ALVIN GOREN.

TEXT TEST!

Dear Editor:

One detail which certainly needs clarification on the possibility of state aid due to "bad" textbooks is this:

Are not the textbooks presented to the board of governors for their approval by the superintendent himself?

Doesn't every textbook go through the district office in Martinez?

If the textbooks are "not in full compliance with the State Code of Education" why did they bear the recommendation of the superintendent?

—PAULA M. HAYWORTH.

ARTICLE AVAILABLE

Dear Editor:

The enclosed article by Senator Joseph S. Clark on disarmament comes to you as a service by a cooperating organization of Turn Toward Peace.

The problem of general and complete disarmament under enforceable world law grows more acute every day. As Senator Clark says: "The time is short. Public awareness of the problem is lacking. The need for first-rate constructive thinking about ways to achieve peace is badly needed."

"Not more than a handful of my colleagues in the senate are fully familiar with the McCloy-Zorin agreement, and the President's Disarmament Plan."

"Hardly any of them take disarmament seriously. A majority of them think total and permanent disarmament is the rosy dream of a few impractical idealists."

We feel this article, beginning on page three, is realistic, constructive and significant.

The current disarmament talks are in the news. We hope you will find time to read this article because we feel its intellectual framework can serve as a background for you on the present talks, as well as for future national policy and specific activities of Turn Toward Peace.

Panhellenic Tea Sunday

Collegiate models from 18 national sororities on the University of California campus will model their own clothes Sunday at 2 p.m. in the student lounge at Diablo Valley College.

The fashion show is sponsored by the Diablo Valley Panhellenic Council which is presenting its sixth annual spring tea and fashion show.

Outstanding feature of the program will be the guest speaker, Miss Edith McClusky, assistant dean of students and advisor to Panhellenic at UC.

The Panhellenic tea is designed to explain rushing procedures and sorority rules to graduating senior high school girls in this area who may be interested in sorority membership at college. Invitations have been sent to 850 prospective graduates of 9 high schools and their mothers. The high schools included are Miramonte, Acalanes, Las Lomas, San Ramon, Pleasant Hill, Clayton Valley, Mt. Diablo, Alhambra and Anna Head girls who live east of the Caldecott Tunnel. Honor guests at the tea include deans of girls from these schools.

Miss McClusky will not only explain Panhellenic regulations in regard to rushing, but also will elaborate upon the fine supervision offered and high scholastic standards which the sorority groups encourage.

An award is made each year during the Panhellenic Tea to the pledge making the highest grade point average at UC.

The Panhellenic Council emphasizes that its information program is useful for girls attending any college or university in the Western United States where national sororities are active.

During the afternoon, guests will have an opportunity to complete rushing recommendations forms, regardless of where or when they plan to attend college.

Approximately 60 sorority alumnae from this area will be on hand to answer any questions concerning recommendations.

Mrs. George Pickering of Lafayette will explain the filing system during the program.

Among the participating members attending the tea will be representatives from the following areas: Alamo, Mmes. T. P. Lake, William Ayers, Charles Bogue. Concord, Mmes. Sam Conti, Alexander Laurence, Vincent Malone, James Kovack, J. F. Gestring, Danville, Mmes. Charles Evans, L. F. Lowery. Lafayette, Mmes. Edward S. Anderson, T. B. Perry.

Sisterhood To Enjoy Park Party

A salad buffet and card party will be the order of "business" at noon Wednesday for the many members and friends of the League of Jewish Women, Sisterhood of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center of Lafayette.

The Lakeside Park Garden Center in Oakland will be the setting for this gala afternoon. Besides a delightful luncheon, there will be a choice of various games of cards, mah-jongg, scrabble.

Many prizes have been donated for the occasion and by popular demand the sweet table will again be featured. Proceeds are earmarked for youth activities.

Mesdames Harold Siner and Sidney Ross are co-chairmen for the event.

'Merry Way' to Be Theme

There are flurries of busy activity at Pleasant Hill's Christ the King Catholic Church. Members of the parish women's club are ankle deep in plans for their "Merry May" dessert fashion show tomorrow in the church auditorium, Gregory Lane at Brandon Road.

One o'clock is the designated hour for the afternoon affair. Mrs. William Dietrich, president, has named Mrs. Herbert Smith, of Pleasant Hill, as general chairman.

A replica of a park bandstand of gay nineties vintage will grace front and center of the stage and will provide the background for the models.

Table decor and programs will be coordinated to the same period theme, using a striking pink and black color scheme.

Appropriately enough, a barbershop quartet will provide musical accompaniment for some of the numbers in the show and will entertain at the intermission.

A percentage of the ticket sales will go to the sponsoring groups.

The operetta will be presented at the Del Valle High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for the three evening performances; 2:30 p.m. for the May 6 matinee.

La Twiste...

By MARIE MONAHAN

FROM THE GUEST list rosters, it appears that just about everybody will head toward Diablo Country Club tomorrow night to trip the light Francetastic.

For their traditional dinner dance, Orinda Nursery School members will provide the party through a trip to Paris a la mode... the dance to be called La Twiste Francaise which, according to early publicity, "was not to be confused with French pastry."

Since this affair is one of the most popular hereabouts, suffice to say that more than a few gals in the gala crowd will look like French pastries, this being a most special time to christen spring and summer party dresses.

A PASSEL of parties will precede the passport to Paris. Dance Chairman Pat Hill and her husband, Ralph, are making up a table for the evening, a long one, and their guests will assemble at the Hills' Happy Valley home for early libations as will the guests at Lillian and Carl Strang's whose gathering includes the nursery school teachers and men's financial committee of which Carl is a dedicated member.

WHILE nursery school tots are bedded down for the night and sitters are at a premium, their parents will pretend they're living it up on the left bank or eyeing the real Eiffel Tower. Edie and Nick Stephan have organized a no-host affair for friends on their way to the club that evening and joining them will be the Frances Antones, Richard Chappels, George Corvins, G. E. Boonos and Dwight Dickinsons.

Liz and Igor Blake have bid the Don Breuners, Peter Leys, Sheldon Cooks, James Kilpatrick, Robert Hildreths, John Williamsses, Charles Becketts, Robert Angells, William Breuners, Ray Donderos and Robert Hills to their Lafayette home. More for a merry stop at the Blakes' Canyon Road home will be the Peter Starks (who recently welcomed a future nursery school member, class of '57), William Diffebaughs, Bill and Marge Douglass, Tiko Enboms, Charles Hoges, Lloyd Swaynes, William Leuckers, Albert Rubies, John Cashells, Rex Valpredas, Jack Edwards, James Moores and Norman Millers.

You can readily understand the population explosion when you study the endless guest list of parents like Ruby and alan Beck and Diane and Thomas Potter who'll join forces for cocktails with a French flair as will Margee and Clem Ford and Barbara and Harry Fledderman.

Bobbie and Bill McGuire, who are still brushing off the egg dye and shells from last Sunday's scramble for the tots at Orinda Country Club (they're on the social committee), have invited their contemporaries to join them during the children's hour, that hallowed time between dusk and nine, before the drive to Diablo.

Caryl and Walter DeFaria, parents of a charming brood of lilliputs, have invited Sue and Jim Soper, Ann and Phil Jelley—as well as Gerry and Clark Wallace and Bev and Jack Hamilton—young parents who live in the same Loma Vista Drive neighborhood.

Ann and Lee Sorenson will chuck the Scandinavian influence for the night in favor of a bit of Bon-Soir-ing when Barbara and Allen McDowell, Margo and Glen Helme, Marge and Rich Garrett and Martha and Bob Oakes turn up on their threshold.

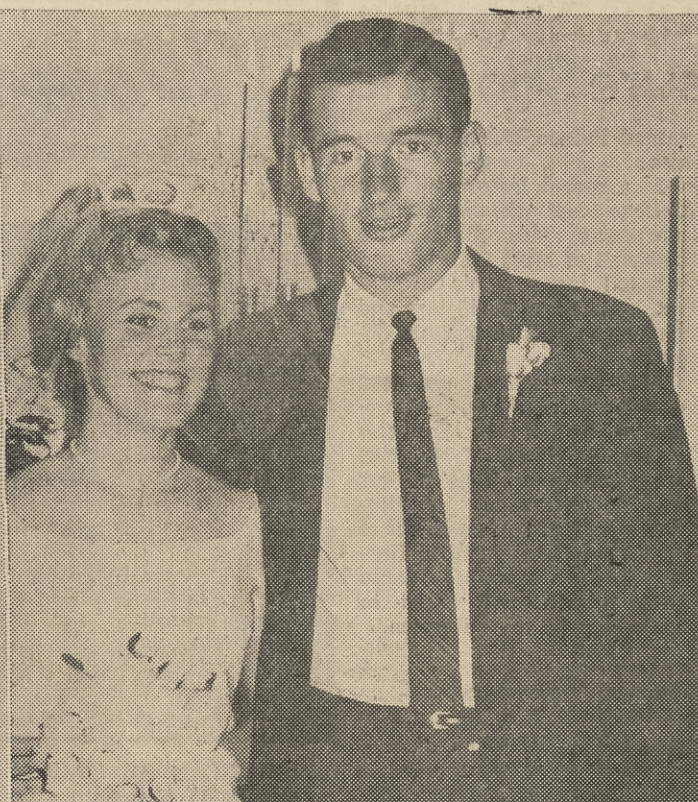

Privately practicing the twist to vie for the prize of a six-foot length of French bread are the guests invited to the early soiree at the home of Marilyn and David Stearns.

Here will be Colleen and Walt Scammell, MyMy and Lindsay Howden, Carol and Larry Barlow, Lu and Fred Anderson and Shirley and Bill Thaler. June and Jack Cunningham, Janet and Jack Welch, Jane and Al Otto, Bev and Grove Bryant, Barbara and Bob Merriam and Marnie and Herb Gerlach will be there, too.

Since the Orinda Nursery School dinner dance is almost the oldest tradition around here, it would be interesting to find who has been faithful the longest with attendance at the party every year. If you find out, let me know!

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bonnington
(Nancy Hamilton)

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Nelson, Jr.
(Bonny Linsley McCready)

Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Miller
(Hazel Aldridge Silva)

Trio of Newlyweds Beam after Nuptials

It isn't even June... and there's a bumper crop of brides.

Three of the beautiful weddings which took place in the area recently were those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bonnington (Nancy Hamilton); Mr. and Mrs. James M. Nelson, Jr. (Bonny Linsley McCready); and Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Miller (Hazel Aldridge Silva).

NANCY HAMILTON- RICHARD BONNINGTON

The Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church was the scene for the 7:30 p.m. nuptials of Nancy Jane Hamilton to Richard Rainey Bonnington.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hamilton, 1095 Mountain View Boulevard, Walnut Creek. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bonnington, 3484 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette.

The Reverend William Stoddard officiated.

As the bride walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, she wore a gown of silk white organza over netting and taffeta. The full, flowing skirt drifted into a chapel train. Frosty lace accents of appliques caressed the bodice and skirt. The scoop neckline was edged in pearls.

Nancy's veil, bouffant petal on petal, was elbow length. It was held in place by a pearl-edged crown. Her bouquet was of white rose, stephanotis and a white orchid on a white ribbon.

Maid of honor Susan Olson wore a green organza sheath with full overskirt. Bridesmaids Diane Maguire and Linda Haynes wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's.

Junior bridesmaid was Nancy's sister Joanne. Her gown was the same as the bridesmaids' but in yellow.

Best man was John Van Der Veer of Walnut Creek. Bruce and Steve Hamilton, the bride's brothers, were ushers, as was Mike Bonnington, the groom's brother.

The bride graduated from Las Lomas High School and attended Diablo Valley College. She was active in Rainbow girls.

Richard attended Acalanes High School. He is in National Guard Ice Hockey League, Walnut Creek assistant coach. At present, he is a student at Steinhardt Aquarium Society.

The reception was in the church social hall.

BONNY MCCREADY- JAMES M. NELSON, JR.

James M. Nelson, Jr. claimed Bonny Linsley McCready as his bride recently at the home of the bride's parents, Bonny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. McCready, 118 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda.

The Reverend William Pothier officiated at the beautifully appointed ceremony. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

The beautiful blonde Bonny wore a princess gown of white taffeta with organza overskirt. A pearl crown held her veil. She carried a cascade of white roses with moth orchids.

The maid of honor, Sue King, carried yellow roses. Bonny's young sister Ann was flower girl.

Bonny graduated from Miramonte High School. She attended Monterey Peninsula College in Monterey. Her brother Richard is a student at Pine Grove School, Orinda.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Thomas H. McCready of El Gabilan, Orinda, and the late Mr. McCready. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Biggins of Santa Barbara.

Jim, as the bridegroom is called, is a graduate from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, in civil engineering. His fraternity affiliation is Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Tom Elving, who served in the Coast Guard with Jim, was best man. Jim's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nelson of Austin, Texas.

The newlyweds are now living in Dallas, Texas.

HAZEL SILVA- JAMES MILLER

A formal wedding at St. Paschal's Church, Oakland, united Hazel Aldridge Silva and James Francis Miller in marriage, recently. Father Quinan performed the rites.

Hazel Aldridge is a fourth generation Californian. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Jackson Silva of Oakland.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Miller, Miller Lane, Lafayette. He is a graduate of Acalanes High School. Presently, he attends Armstrong College, Berkeley, where he is active in Phi Zeta fraternity.

Dr. Silva gave his daughter in marriage. Her white peau de soie, bustled gown was full length with long sleeves. The arm-length veil was attached to a pearl and crystal encrusted crown. It sat atop Hazel's lovely dark brown hair, which was arranged in a bouffant coiffure.

Her bouquet was a graceful spray of gardenias and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Barbara Anaderio. Matron of honor was Mrs. Jon Maury DuFraue. Bridesmaid was Carol Justice of Alamo.

The attendants wore daffodil-yellow taffeta, full skirted gowns. The fitted bodices were covered with white lace. They wore matching shoes and silk bands in their hair.

Best man was Ronlad Hufaker of Lafayette. Jon Maury DuFraue and Richard Gazarian were ushers.

After a reception at Sidney Snow Hall in Knowland Park, the newlyweds started for Disneyland, their honeymoon destination.

Travel Is Topic at Arch of Topaz Lunch

Summer travel plans was a natural topic of conversation at the Arch of Topaz recent bridge-luncheon at the Masonic Temple, Lafayette. Decorations of gay spring flowers and travel posters were as conducive to leisurely summer planning as the afternoon was to bridge.

The Arch, whose members reside east-of-the-tunnel, is one of the nine Arches that make up Herrick Hospital Guild's "Crown of Jewels." All of the Arches are devoted to helping support the hospital's part-pay clinics for which there are no geographic restrictions.

The Herrick part-pay clinics provide medical, surgical and psychiatric care for both adults and children in the Bay Area who are unable to afford the full cost of medical care and yet do not qualify for welfare. Only a small part of the cost incurred by the clinic is covered by the patient's fee. The Arch of Topaz is one of the fund-raising groups that help to defray the cost of clinic care.

To add to the proceeds for the part-pay clinics, luncheon hostesses displayed and sold lovely aprons, stuffed animals and miscellaneous gift items made by members of the Arch.

Dental Assistants Hear Grooming Talk

The show contains a cross section of the finest objects from the imperial collection of the Republic of China's

Ceramist To Speak

Celebrated ceramist, Antonio Prieto, will address members and guests of the Orinda Art Center at their annual luncheon Wednesday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at the Orinda Country Club.

Head of the Mills College art department for the past five years, the Spanish-born artist has been affiliated with the Oakland college since 1950. He has received over 50 awards and honors in exhibitions and competitions in the United States and Europe.

His works are included in the permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, the Tokyo Museum of Crafts in Japan, and in university and private collections.

He will show a group of objects of his own creation. These represent daring experiments, the latest innovations in ceramics, as well as the well-loved traditional techniques. He will outline the various methods used in making ornamental and useful pottery. His informal running commentary has made his public appearances so popular.

The father of four boys, Prieto was educated in American schools. He met his wife, Eunice, when they both attended Alfred University in New York.

He is a strong advocate of art for the very young, and crafts to make their hands dextrous and their minds imaginative.

A wide selection of children's art will be on display during the luncheon, chosen from the Saturday classes sponsored by the center, and

Del Valle Closes With Track Win Over Alhambra

In the final dual track meets of the season, rain was the winner over all Foothill League teams last Friday. All three meets were washed out.

The Acalanes-Piedmont meet was rescheduled for Tuesday. The Clan tops the FAL with a 5-0 record. Acalanes and Las Lomas are both 4-1.

Del Valle posted its second win of the season Monday afternoon, routing hapless Alhambra, 79½-33½. It was the second win in six tries for the Trojans and the sixth straight loss for the Bulldogs.

Last Wednesday, Miramonte took it on the chin from Oakland Tech, 70-43.

League Leaders Battle to Tie In FAL Action

In Foothill League action Thursday (April 26), Miramonte and Acalanes fought to a 6-6 deadlock in a game at Lafayette that was called after seven innings because of darkness. Both teams were 4-0 in league play.

San Ramon blasted Del Valle, 4-0, with Don Collar for the Wolves tossing the first no-hitter of the season in Foothill League competition.

Las Lomas downed last place Piedmont, 3-1, with Bill Brown working the mound for the Knights and allowing only two safeties while whiffing 11 Piedmont batters.

In the Don-Matador contest, Acalanes held a 5-0 lead to the seventh, when Miramonte roared back with six runs.

Vikings Finish Far Back in Golf Tourney

Diablo Valley College's golf team traveled to Santa Cruz over Easter vacation where they competed in the Western Intercollegiate Golf Championships on the tough Pasatiempo Golf Course.

However, the Viking golfers didn't fare too well as they came in 22nd in a field of 37 colleges and universities.

The Viks took a so-so fifth place in junior college competition.

Only two Vikings, Dan Minor and Steve Lamphere, qualified for the final round on Saturday.

LAMPHERE tied for sixth place in the first flight while firing rounds of 81-74-81. Minor finished 12th in the same flight with rounds of 78-81-82.

Stanford won the team trophy as they compiled a 590 total for the two-day competition.

San Diego State finished second with a 595 total. Arizona State finished third at 607, Fresno State fourth at 609, and Oregon State fifth with a 610 total. John Lotz of San Jose State came from behind on the final day to win the individual honors for the second year in a row.

He fired rounds of 74, 68, 70 and 68 for a total of 280 which is four under par.

Pete Choate of Stanford finished second with 282 while Chuck Courtney of San Diego State copped third place. Courtney had finished second the two previous years.

Pittsburg Wins Fourth CCD Track Championship

Pittsburg ran off with eight first places and rolled up 102 points to win its fourth straight Contra Costa Division track and field championship Monday at Mt. Diablo.

Chuck Bray of Pleasant Hill set the only meet record with a toss of 58-1 in the shot put. It wiped out a 13-year-old record set by John Henry Johnson of Pittsburg in 1949. Johnson's mark was 54.9.

The Rams finished second, far back of the Pirates, with 42 points.

Pleasant Hill had two other winners—Mark Kendler in the 880 and Dick Gentry in the 440.

College Park had no winners and finished fifth with 17 points.

Rams, Falcons Lose Again in Gymnastics

Pleasant Hill and College Park gymnastic squads were both defeated in home meets one week ago today.

Mt. Diablo crushed Pleasant Hill, 87½-37½, and Pacifica took the measure of College Park, 75-51.

The Rams were able to control those events which they have been consistently strong in all season (side horse and tumbling), but lack of man power hampered them throughout the remainder of the meet.

The dwindling 14-man squad could not master the awesome number of 46 Mt. Diablo competitors.

College Park could boast of many who "also ran," but the inability to capture any more than one first place proved costly to the "gamey" Falcon gymnasts.

Ken Poff, Rae Anders, and Scott Gardiner put on an amazing performance on the trampoline in capturing a sweep in that event.

Outside of that, Pacifica took seven first places and four seconds which, in itself, was nearly enough to provide the winning margin.

PLEASANT HILL winners were:

Trampoline—Tom Moore, Terry Julin (tied for third). Still Rings—Don Douglas (third).

Parallel Bars—Don Douglas (tie for second). Side Horse—Len Van Noord (first), Bill Taylor (third).

Tumbling—Tony Schilz (first).

COLLEGE PARK winners were:

Horizontal Bar—Don Torrance (second), Mike Bush (third).

Free Exercise—Ken Poff (third).

Rope Climb—Scott Gardiner (third).

Trampoline—Ken Poff (first), Rae Anders (second), Scott Gardiner (third).

Still Rings—Tom Chapman (third).

Parallel Bars—Wade Loufborow (second).

Side Horse—Danny Newcomb (third).

Tumbling—Scott Gardiner (second), Ken Poff (third).

WHCC Swim Record Narrow Win, 244-218

Walnut Hills Swim Club defeated the San Leandro Bay Vista Swim Club in a dual meet, 244-218, Sunday.

Walnut Hills started on top, but fell behind at the midway mark.

However, starting with a relay for 10-year-olds, Walnut Hills made a comeback that gave them the victory.

Robert Sidorsky, Bobby Grieve, Robert Schmitz and Mike McGowan took first in the 100-yard freestyle relay, then four other first place finishes followed in rapid order to clinch the meet. The relay was timed at 1:00.6.

Las Lomas Hosts FAL Swim Meet

Swimmers from the five Foot-hill League swim teams will compete this afternoon at Las Lomas (3:45 p.m.) to determine representatives at the North Coast Section, Division I meet at Antioch next weekend.

Las Lomas is rated a slight favorite over Acalanes to win the varsity championship while San Ramon is the top choice among the B teams.

The league meet has no bearing on the league standings.

Miramonte, which must still be rated as the favorite to win the dual meet championship, dropped many of its swimmers in the B classification in order to give San Ramon a battle and qualify more swimmers for the North Coast.

THE FOLLOWING are the favorites in each of the varsity events on the basis of past performances in league meets.

400-yard freestyle—All San Ramon—Phil Greer (4:48) and Don Keane (4:58) with the top two times.

50-yard freestyle—Fritz Vontagen (Las Lomas—24.0) over Bill Higgins (Ac) (24.4) and Robin Hunt of Acalanes (24.3).

100-yard butterfly—Bob Kam-meyer of Miramonte (59.7) should swim away from the field.

200-yard freestyle—Phil Simon of Acalanes (2:03.1) a relatively easy victory over Homer Dawson of Alhambra (2:10).

100-yard backstroke—All Las Lomas—Bob Strand (59.0) and Don Smith (1:01) an easy one-two punch.

100-yard breaststroke—Tom MacPherson (Acalanes) (1:10.8) a slight favorite over Randy Tamberg of Las Lomas (1:12.0).

100-yard freestyle—Bob Kam-meyer of Miramonte (54.0) in relatively easy win.

Diving—An open field—Al Pomeroy of Las Lomas, Jim Brown of San Ramon, John Dye of Alhambra, Bill Hoyt of Acalanes are given best chance.

200-yard individual medley—Bob Strand of Las Lomas (2:10.8) an easy victory.

200-yard medley relay—Las Lomas a close victor over Acalanes.

200-yard freestyle relay—Las Lomas a close victor over Acalanes.

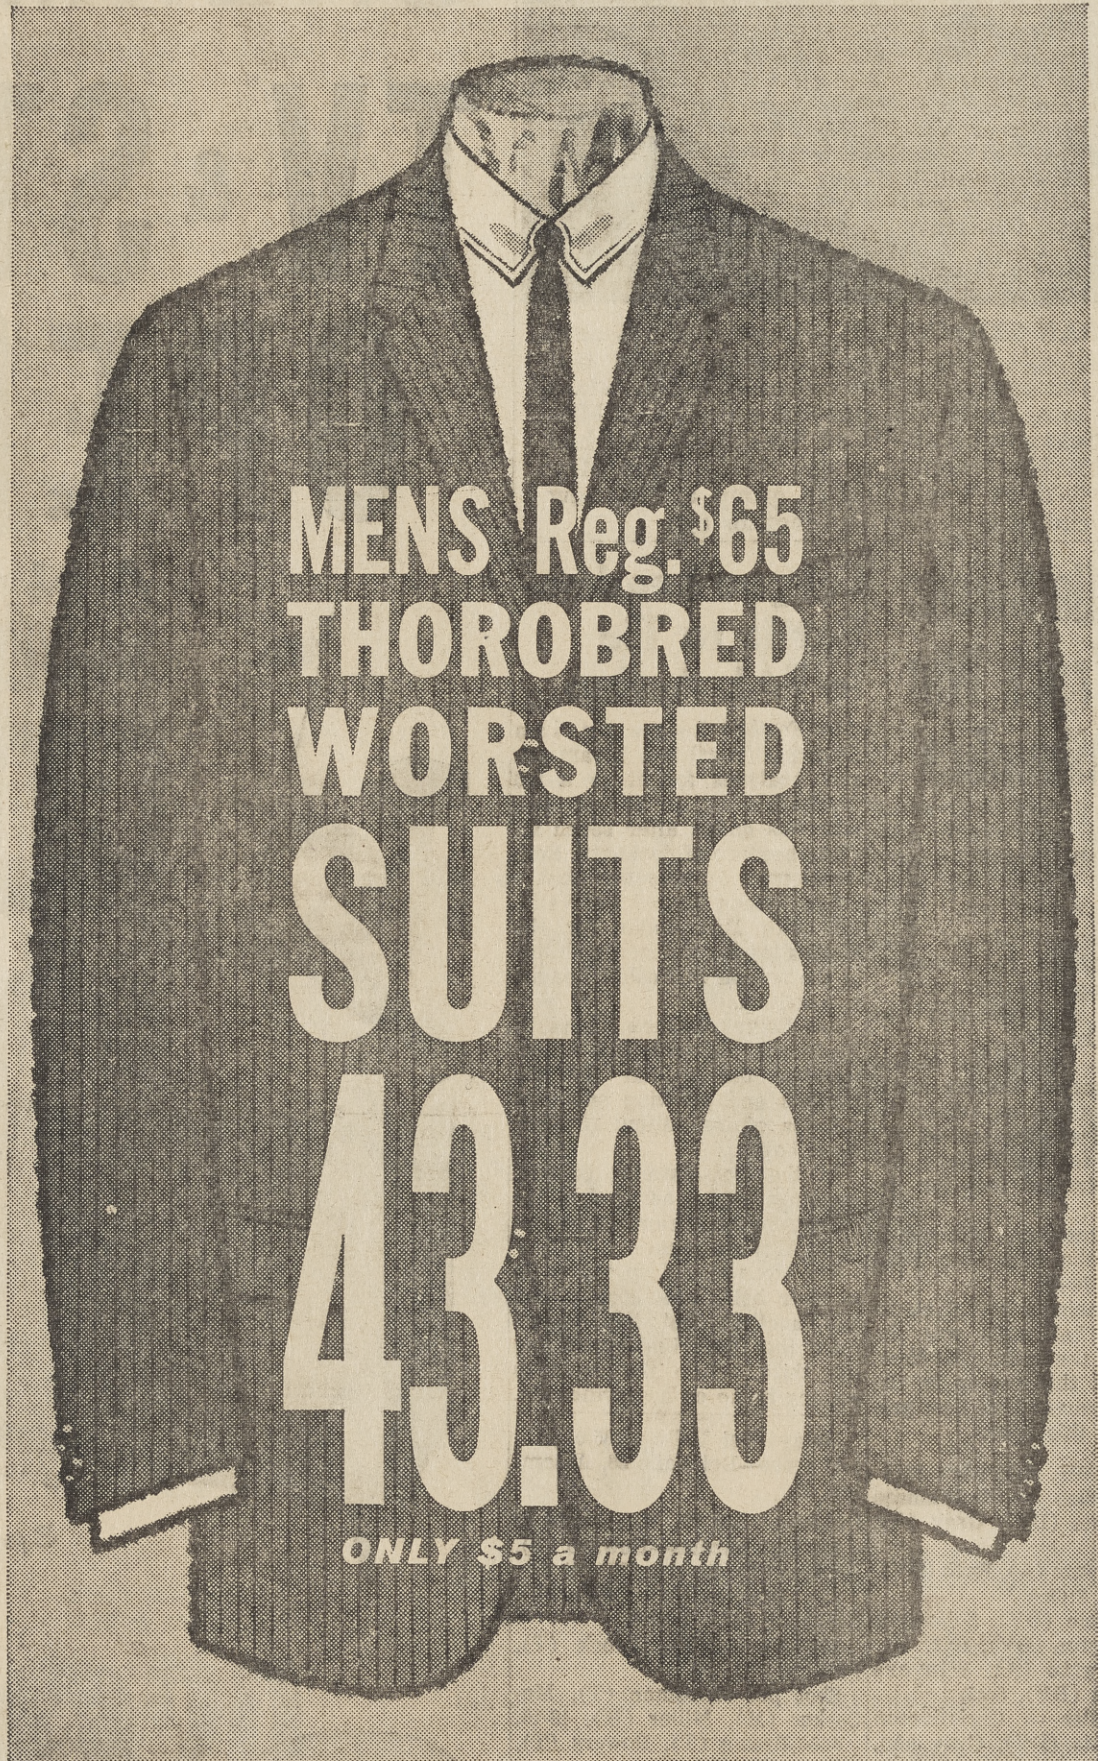

TORY SCHMITZ took five first places and Tom Fitzsimmons had four more as the local swimmers finished with 18 individual victories in their fifth dual meet of the season.

The four other relay wins that clinched the win for Walnut Hills were recorded by:

Krista Girtman, Theresa Graves, Lisa Van Horn and Barbara Graves in the 11 and 12, 200-yard freestyle relay, 2:33.8; Mike Fujimoto, Jim Hunter, Danny Patterson and Jim Zaro, 11-12, 200-yard freestyle relay, 1:58.5; Bonnie Patterson, Tory Schmitz, Elaine Linderman and Diana Linderman, 13-14, 200-yard freestyle relay, 2:00.0; Tom Fitzsimmons, George Hall, Dale Roberts and Dave Nuoffer, 13-14, 200-yard freestyle relay, 1:59.8.

SF Giants Offer Free Tickets for Youth Groups

The San Francisco Giants have announced an Invitational Program for Youngsters at Candlestick Park during the school vacation period this year.

Through this program, youngsters in the 9 to 14-year-old bracket, when organized in groups, and properly sponsored and chaperoned, will be invited to attend WEEKDAY afternoon games (excepting Saturdays and holidays) as the guests of the Giants free of any charge.

Admission to these games will be written invitation only, and on the date assigned to each group.

TO OBTAIN an invitation, it will be necessary:—

1. For the sponsoring group, or its representative, to apply for this invitation in a letter to Walter Mails, of the San Francisco Giants, at Candlestick Park. Mails will be in charge of this youth program.

2. Each request must specify the number of youngsters included in the group.

3. Each group must be accompanied by adult chaperones, in the ratio of one adult to ten youngsters. By accompanying the group the adult chaperones agree to remain with the youngsters throughout the game to the end that proper discipline is maintained.

4. Each group must agree to accept the date assigned to it, and obey the regulation governing their attendance.

5. Grand stand seats will be assigned to each group, but each group must agree to occupy only seats assigned to it.

6. The Giants will honor as many requests as they possibly can—and it is their hope the program will afford pleasure to thousands of youngsters throughout the area.

7. Sponsorship will be limited to organized youth and welfare groups, such as churches, fraternal groups, Little Leagues, C.Y.O., Police Athletic League, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other organizations in that category.

Dr. Lester Will Attend Conference

Dr. Robert W. Lester, Orinda optometrist, is among the pre-registrants for the Fourth Annual Contact Lens Conference of the California Optometric Association to be held at the Fresno Hacienda Sunday and Monday.

League-Leading Dons in Disputed Golf Contest

In the first match of the second round in Foothill League golf play, Las Lomas (3-3) crushed hapless Del Valle (0-6) and at Orinda, Piedmont (3-3) defeated Miramonte (3-3) in a close match, 5-4.

League-leader Acalanes (5-0) and San Ramon (3-2) had a match at Diablo Country Club also, but the result of that match is not known yet.

BOTH TEAMS are claiming a 5-4 victory and league golf coaches will be asked to rule on the match at their next meeting.

The two teams split the six individual matches. In the first two best ball matches, after nine holes, the matches were all even.

Acalanes coach Neils Waitlow said that his team had been splitting all points when best-ball matches were tied.

San Ramon coach Fred Houston claims the matches should be played off for the one point.

The boys playing the two matches did go into sudden death with San Ramon winning both times.

Acalanes won the third best-ball contest. If the two points were split, the Dons would be a 5-4 winner. If the two points were allowed to San Ramon, the Wolves would come out a 5-4 winner.

PETER DOZIER, Tim White and Dave Rossi, San Ramon's number 1, 2 and 3, all won, while Art Sherry, John Mount and Larry Wolfe were the Acalanes winner.

The matches being contested included number 1, 2, 3 and 4 men for the two teams. Acalanes' number 5 and 6 men won their best-ball match.

Jim Roessler was medalist for the Knights with a fine 39, three over par on the very tough Round Hill course. He defeated Scott Smith of Del Valle, who turned the nine in 40. Roessler teamed up with Mike Koefler, who defeated John Blagen, to take the best-ball event.

Mike Willamson defeated Don Dufosse, and Greg Mertens stopped Bruce Sponseller, Williamson and Mertens won the best ball.

Denny Young and Bill Rigney swept all three points from their men, Vince Murphy and Darrel La Clair.

JEFF KNUDSEN and John Spinola, number 3 and 4 men for Miramonte, swept all three points from their opponents from Piedmont.

Steve Baker was the only other winner for the Matadors, defeating his man one up.

Jim Trumbley, John Poole and John Lackey were all beaten, and the first and third partnerships lost the best-ball.

Knudsen was medalist for Miramonte with a 38.

Oxly Hrls PH Past Falcons as Rams Win Third

College Park and Pleasant Hill met in a Contra Costa Division baseball game Tuesday and the Rams came home with a 2-0 victory.

Al Oxly went the distance in shutting out the Falcons, allowing only four hits while fanning four.

In another CCD game, Mt. Diablo moved away from the rest of the league with a 3-0 win over second-place Pittsburg. A Pirate win would have put them into first place.

In the other league games, Antioch ripped Pacifica, 7-3, to move into second place.

CCD STANDINGS	W	L	T	GB
Mt. Diablo	6	1	1	—
Pittsburg	5	3	0	1 1/2
Antioch	4	2	1	1 1/2
Clayton Valley	4	3	0	2
College Park	3	5	0	3 1/2
Pleasant Hill	3	5	0	3 1/2
Pacifica	1	7	0	5 1/2

Mick Sytkowski was the loser, going the distance and giving up six hits and striking out five.

The Rams scored both of their runs in the fourth. Dave Clark singled and stole second, then third. Al Oxly walked and stole second. Pete Caruso lined a single through the box that scored both men.

Other than the short rally in the fourth by Pleasant Hill, the game was strictly defensive. College Park committed only one miscue, and Pleasant Hill was guilty of two errors.

For College Park, Bob Roberts had two singles, and Al Oldfather had a single.

For the Rams, Dave Clark, Caruso, Oxly, Jim Dunlap, Mike Perrin and Bill Erickson all had singles.

It was the second straight loss of College Park and second to Pleasant Hill this season.

The Falcons and Rams are both 3-5 and tied for fifth place.

Nine-Hole Golf Course Opens at Airport Today

Buchanan Fields Golf Course, a 2700-yard nine-hole layout in Concord, will be opened to the public today.

The new course, which is located on Concord Boulevard and Martinez Highway (adjacent to Buchanan Airfield), boasts a driving range and complete clubhouse facilities in addition to nine interesting and challenging holes.

THE THREE-PARS are the fourth (155 yards) and the seventh (135 yards).

Although the course is flat there are doglegs, ponds, creeks and bunkers to provide a challenge for even the scratch player.

Teaching pro will be Norm Tauscher, well-known Bay Area pro for over a decade.

Tauscher recently finished a two-year stint at Round Hill Country Club.

Previously he served as head pro at Diablo Country Club for more than five years.

Dons Grab Foothill Lead With Win Over Del Valle

Defending champion Alhambra, floundering this season, came up with that "big win" Tuesday afternoon, dumping Miramonte from the top spot in the Foothill League with a 5-2 victory over the Mats.

Miramonte has not lost a game all season, in the FAL or in non-league games.

As expected, Acalanes routed Del Valle Tuesday afternoon to move into sole possession of first place.

The Dons and Mats had battled to an almost unbelievable 3-6 tie last Thursday afternoon to remain deadlocked for first place.

Three runs in the sixth inning clinched things for the last year's champs.

Pete Boyle lost the game for Miramonte. He was relieved after giving up all five runs and seven hits.

Del Valle didn't play it straight against the undefeated Dons.

AFTER Acalanes scored twice in the first inning for a 2-0 lead, the Trojans tied it up with two of their own in the third.

The Dons got back on top with a single tally in the fourth, then broke the game open with five runs in the fifth, then added three more for good measure in the sixth for a final 11-2 win.

John Paul Jones went the first four innings for Acalanes with Brian Allen finishing up.

A triple by Doug Kalin with three men on in the fifth inning was the most decisive blow of the day.

Jones, Rick Underwood and Bob Gillham each had two hits for the winners.

Don Collar pitched a four-hitter for San Ramon as the Wolves scored twice in the bottom of the sixth to pull out the win.

Larry Bradford went the distance for Las Lomas, giving up six hits.

Matadors, Knights Still Tied for FAL Swim Lead

Las Lomas and Miramonte both posted Foothill League swim win last week.

The Knights drubbed Alhambra, 75-20, while Miramonte was routing San Ramon, 77-18.

Both teams are now 2-0 in league standings.

Bob Strand of Las Lomas turned in a 2:10.6 in his specialty, the 200-yard individual medley, to highlight the Las Lomas win. The time is one of the best in the North Coast this year.

Miramonte had two double winners—Bob Savage and Bob Kammeyer—in its easy victory.

In non-league meets, Acalanes got past Oakland High, 57-37, and Miramonte dumped DeAnza, 47-12.

8 Realtors Are Given Oath at Big Ceremonies

Eight new Realtor members were inducted into the Contra Costa Real Estate Board at formal ceremonies Monday, at the quarterly general membership meeting.

J. N. Smith, president, presided. Jerry Friedrich, membership committee chairman, administered the oath. More than 200 witnessed the ceremonies at the Walnut Creek Elks Lodge. Several wives of new members were present for the occasion.

New members pledging themselves to uphold the national code of ethics are: George Sauer, Harry Stylos, Matthew Hammond, Clifford Mason, Lyles Pember, Gael Himmah, Robert Ahlstedt, and J. Leslie Corse.

Friedrich explained that all realtors are brokers, but all brokers are not realtors.

He said that realtors are licensed real estate brokers who have met additional local requirements and by virtue of acceptance for membership in the real estate board, are entitled to use the term Realtor.

Monday Is Final Day to File for Vet Exemption

County Assessor E. F. Wanaka reminded Contra Costa County war veterans today that they have until Monday in which to file for their $1000 property tax exemption allowed them by the state constitution.

No application may be accepted after 5 p.m. or if mailed, if postmarked later than May 7. While the majority of the veterans have already made the necessary returns, several thousand remain to be heard from.

Those who received exemption last year should complete and return the form which the assessor mailed earlier in the year.

However, those veterans who are filing for the first time must appear in person at the assessor's office, having with them their service discharge papers and description of the property on which the exemption is to be claimed.

THE VETERAN is allowed an exemption if his assets are valued at less than $5,000 or if the property is community property and held by the husband and wife, the amount is $10,000.

This includes stocks, bonds, real and personal property. Assessed values rather than market value of the real property are used in determining the veteran's net worth.

Certain paraplegic veterans are entitled to special consideration and should contact the assessor regarding an exemption on the property.

Affidavits for church exemption must be filed by the various churches throughout the county during the same period of time.

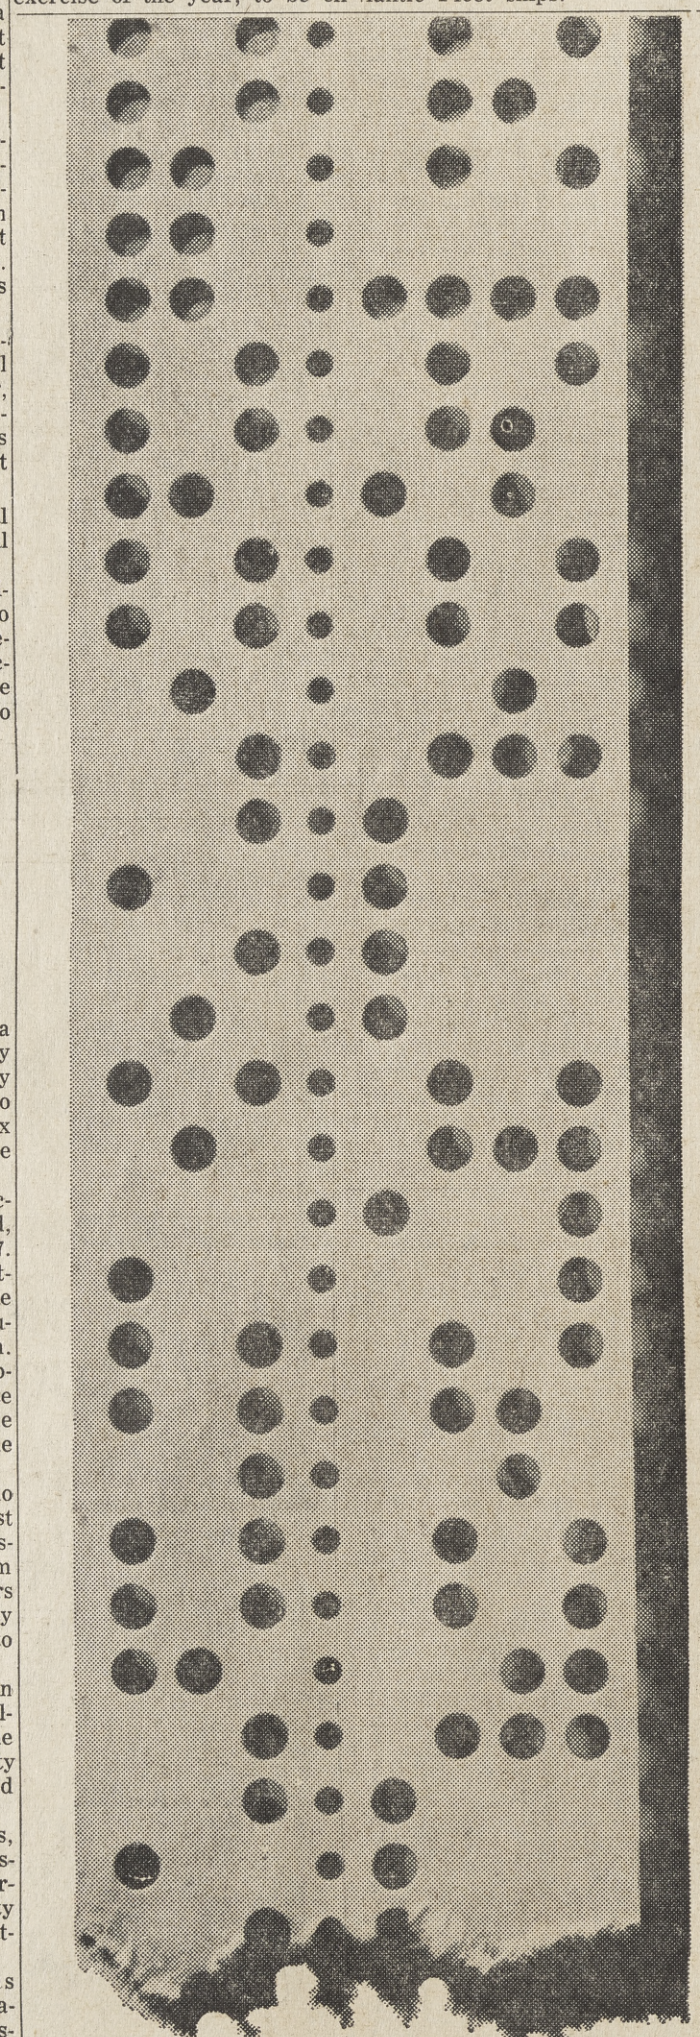

Veterans may file or receive assistance in completing their affidavits at the county court house, Martinez.

An important announcement from BUSTER BROWN and Sutton's Shoes

A remarkable new shoe for children 3 and under

It is designed to avoid a lifetime of foot troubles

Simon J. Wikler, Doctor of Surgical Chiropody, and one of the youngsters he has helped.

The look and structure of infants' and children's shoes has been revolutionized by Simon J. Wikler, a Florida podiatrist.

He has designed a new shoe according to the structure and needs of the growing human foot, consulting many physicians, pediatricians, orthopedic surgeons and podiatrists over the years. Their interest and approval encouraged him to patent his unusual shoe and bring it to the attention of Brown Shoe Company, makers of Buster Brown Shoes for children.

Dr. Wikler's method of explaining the principles of his patented new shoe is as unorthodox as the shoe itself.

He'll ask you to take off your shoes and wiggle and spread your toes, as you would your fingers when playing the piano. Then, the condition of your foot indicates how often you went barefoot as a child. His trained eye can tell what kind of foot distress (if any) you may be prone to.

"The captive toes"

Fingers and toes behave alike, says Dr. Wikler. Watch a baby in his crib—always stretching and flexing his fingers and toes. But, he asks, suppose you encased the baby's hands and

"Bare feet are healthy"

Dr. Wikler cites statistics on foot distress: by the age of one year, 8% have foot trouble; at age five, 41%; at age 20, 80%.

He observes that results of foot trouble may be worse than the foot distress itself. For instance, a slouching posture, common when defective feet cannot support the body, causes improper weight distribution that may result in chronic fatigue or even more serious disorders.

Yet, in countries where most of the population goes barefoot, Dr. Wikler has never heard of a native with fallen arches. It would seem, he decided, that the trouble with feet is ill-fitting shoes.

"Are shoes necessary?"

Cold floors, city pavements and gravel roads make going barefoot impractical. So, Dr. Wikler worked on a new idea that would make wearing shoes "like walking barefoot with shoes on."

After consulting eminent foot doctors, physicians and pediatricians and applying his prin-

The conventional shoe forces the growing foot into a cramped position, Dr. Wikler points out, making toes helpless and puny without giving them a chance to attain their natural spread.

Ideal shoe for children. Plenty of room for the foot to grow into this shoe without deforming pressures on the toes.

"Vital for early years"

Foot experts say that in early years permanent damage can be done to a child's foot in a few days' time, without any word or sign of distress. To insure proper foot growth in these vital years, The Wikler Shoe is made by Buster Brown only in infants' and small children's sizes.

If you have children under four years old or an infant who is ready for his first shoes, visit the Authorized Buster Brown Retailer near you. He'll be glad to give you a folder telling all about the new Wikler Shoe, available in sizes 0 to 8, high white or oxford styles. Let him start your child off on the right footing with a pair of these remarkable new shoes, made only by Buster Brown.

A permanently deformed adult foot, Dr. Wikler says, can usually be traced to shoes that did their damage during the formative years when the soft bones were developing.

cles to his own patients, he came upon the idea for his radically new kind of shoe. He spent 12 years perfecting a model before he felt it was exactly right.

"New kind of baby shoes"

His dream came true when the Brown Shoe Company recognized the soundness of his principles and incorporated the shoe in the famous Buster Brown brand, to be known as The Wikler Shoe, available only at Authorized Buster Brown Retailers.

The shoe has soft leather uppers, with no overlapping inside seams to irritate sensitive feet, or metal shanks to interfere with the flexibility of the sole. The unusual fan-shaped toe design allows toes to spread within the shoe, combined with a heel that positions the foot firmly, without cramping it. It lets a baby "go barefoot with shoes on," allowing his feet to grow and exercise normally.

Valuations Announced By Assessor

County Assessor E. F. Wanaka has announced that notices of 1962-63 assessed values have been mailed to property owners in the Alamo, Danville and San Ramon School Districts.

The assessor has recently completed a review of the aforementioned area and has mailed letters to all property owners of record as of March 5 informing them of their new assessed values.

"All letters are sent to the address to which the tax bills are mailed," he noted. "If your tax bill is handled by a third party, such as a bank or a tax service agency, the notice of assessed value would have been sent directly to that agency."

"If you have not received a letter," Mr. Wanaka continued, "you may determine your new assessed value by contacting our field office. This office is located in the Veterans' Memorial Building at the corner of Prospect and Hartz Avenue, Danville."

FIRST FALLOUT shelter contract in Contra Costa County was signed last week by G. A. Horstkotte, district manager of the Central Contra Costa County Sanitary District. Reading Program Offered By St. Mary's in Summer

Summer sessions at St. Mary's College will feature special courses in reading improvement and the teaching of developmental reading. Brother S. Dominic, F.S.C., associate dean, announced today.

Developmental reading is designed to improve speed and comprehension. Brother U. Casimir, F.S.C., and Brother V. Patrick, F.S.C., two members of the International Reading Association, will teach the special courses.

The reading improvement course will comprise a testing and screening program to increase eye span, reading films, reading pacers, helps on how to adjust oneself to different types of reading, and post-testing. No credit is given for this course.

The full unit developmental reading course will include the general principles of a developmental reading program, the theory of laboratory training, the physical plant and materials needed to establish a reading program, actual practice in the various techniques and equipment, and how to integrate a school-wide program within the present curriculum.

BESIDES THE new reading program, the Saint Mary's summer session will offer courses in Spanish for elementary school teachers. Stress will be placed on the fundamentals of conversational Spanish and on the techniques of teaching foreign language to elementary students. Dr. Phillip B. Petersen, PhD, assistant professor of romance languages, is in charge of the program.

The summer graduation programs in theology and philosophy leading to the master's degree will continue this year.

Acting director of the theology program will be Rev. Mark Baceman, O.S.B., S.T.D., of Saint Benedict's College, Atchison, Kansas.

Dr. John J. Wellmuth, professor of philosophy, will direct the graduate philosophy program. Other courses will be given by Rev. William Baumgaertner, PhD.

Undergraduate courses in English, history, education, physics, and philosophy are also included in the summer session, which begins June 25 and closes August 3.

Hi-Y Officers Assume Posts

Wayne Weatherly of Mt. Diablo High School has been named president of the Hi-Y Leaders Council with two Las Lomas girls—Linda Kanewake and Sally Frost—selected as vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively. They take office next Tuesday.

The election was held at the last conference of the student leaders at the Walnut Creek Methodist Church. John Bankert of College Park High School was named chaplain.

Membership in the council is open to officers and advisors of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of the Mt. Diablo YMCA. Its purpose is to provide officer training and to coordinate area YMCA high school program.

Clubs represented on the council at this time include: Mt. Diablo Hi-Y (Wayne Weatherly), Mt. Diablo Hi-Y #2 (Mike Huyck), Pacifica Hi-Y (Don Korpi), Pleasant Hill Hi-Y (Roger Bise), College Park Hi-Y (Ed Kuhn), Las Lomas Tri-Hi-Y (Linda Kanewake), Pacifica Tri-Hi-Y (Rebecca Lucero), Clayton Valley Tri-Hi-Y (Linda Henderson).

Other clubs, now being formed at Pleasant Hill, Las Lomas, Miramonte, Mt. Diablo, College Park and San Ramon, are expected to join the council soon.

The next meeting of the council is scheduled for Tuesday in the social hall of the Walnut Creek Methodist Church.

Final plans for a joint Hi-Y/Tri-Hi-Y spring picnic at Stinson Beach will be discussed at this meeting. All Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club officers and advisors are urged to attend.

Engle's Educational TV Bill Goes to President

Senator Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said recently that legislation he co-sponsored authorizing federal grants to assist in the construction of new educational television stations has been approved in both the senate and the house.

The bill, which has been sent to the president for signature, would authorize $32 million in matching funds for the states over a five-year period.

Senator Engle said the program would be administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in cooperation with the Federal Communications Commission.

He explained, "An important provision of this bill prohibits the federal government or any of its agencies from controlling the programming of the stations—thus insuring the principle of free speech so vital to broadcasting."

"THE FEDERAL Communications Commission 10 years ago reserved 273 channels for educational television," Senator Engle said. "Today only 62 are in use."

"National studies indicate there should be at least 1197."

"This legislation will have considerable importance for California. Nine educational TV stations have been reserved for our state."

"Two already in use—KVIE-TV, channel 6, in Sacramento, and KQED-TV, channel 9, in San Francisco—have provided great public service. But I would like to see the remaining channels being used."

"It's plain to see that some stimulus is required. And this legislation will go a long way toward providing that stimulus and getting educational television its feet."

May 10 Final Date to Join Dental Class

Karl O. Drexel, director of Diablo Valley College, today warned that May 10 is the deadline for applying for a new two-year dental hygiene program to be offered at DVC this fall.

Selection will be on a competitive basis, inasmuch as it is anticipated that many more students will apply than can be accommodated.

The new program, designed to the requirements of the state business and professional code and standards of the American Dental Association, will prepare women for state licensing as dental hygienists.

Associate in arts degree and certificates of achievement will be given graduates.

First instruction will begin September 5.

Youth for Christ Rally at Walnut Creek Sunday

Sunday at 7:45 p.m., the Youth for Christ will hold its rally at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center. Teen registration will be taken and the speaker will be John French, the famous English actor.

John French has acted in 40 films with many name personalities, including Marlene Dietrich, Robert Taylor, Audrey Hepburn, Lionel Barrymore and Richard Todd.

He has played before all the crowned heads of Europe, and was in Walt Disney's "Robin Hood." John French is known as outstanding actor, producer and playwright.

Area Leaders Active in Cerebral Palsy Telethon

Four popular TV personalities will join Dennis James, network star, on the 18-hour Cerebral Palsy Telethon this weekend.

Peter Brown of "The Lawman," Sammy Tong of "Bachelor Father," Tony Martinez of "The Real McCoys," and actress Vivian Dorsett will be featured in the big Channel 13 show at Memorial Auditorium, Sacramento.

Starting at 10 p.m. Saturday, when the charity spectacular takes the air, Contra Costa CP committees will operate a county headquarters at Jefferson Motors, 2820 Willow Pass Road, Concord. Telephone number at the headquarters is MU 2-3150.

PLEDGES WILL be accepted there during the two hours before the telethon starts, and throughout the TV special. All funds pledged locally will be used for cerebral palsy activities within the county, according to Norris Casey, Concord, and George Sciacqua, Lafayette, co-chairmen.

Recruitment of telephone volunteers for the county headquarters is the assignment of Mrs. Dorothea Bouchet and Walter Jackson, both Lafayette, and Mrs. Joyce Reeves, Concord.

Two other Lafayette residents, Malcom Fowler and Elmer Ringbom, are also active in plans for the telethon. Fowler is president, and Ringbom the treasurer of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of East Contra Costa County, Inc.

Walnut Creek officers of the association are Ray Williams, secretary, and John Clausen, junior past president.

Buchanan Land Deal Still Pending

Following closely on the heels of the Grand Jury's recommendation for stepped-up activity on the industrial developments at Buchanan Field, realtor King Parker Jr. reported to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday on his negotiations for leasing 93 acres around the field.

Six and a half months after he first outlined the possibilities of leasing to "a large organization comparable to Aerojet," Parker said negotiations were still "hanging fire."

"A PENDING contract from the Defense Department to our client is what is causing the delay," said Parker.

"I've just returned from Southern California and have been told, 'We can't get an answer, but hang on.'"

Parker appeared before the board at the request of Supervisor Mel Nielson, chairman of the board's committee on public property and housing (which includes the airport development). Nielson called attention to the long lapse of time since Parker broached the matter. Nielsen felt there might be possible loss by the county of other "deals" if the board continued to "mark time" for Parker's client.

PARKER said that "we'd be very glad to work with anyone. The Board of Supervisors might well consider giving anyone an acre or two on the edge of the area. It wouldn't hurt to have one, two or five acres leased to another firm, on the perimeter of the area."

Nielson commented that he thought Parker had requested an exclusive arrangement. "This clarifies the picture," he said.

IN OTHER action, the board adopted a fire prevention ordinance which will be applicable in the 16 county fire protection districts.

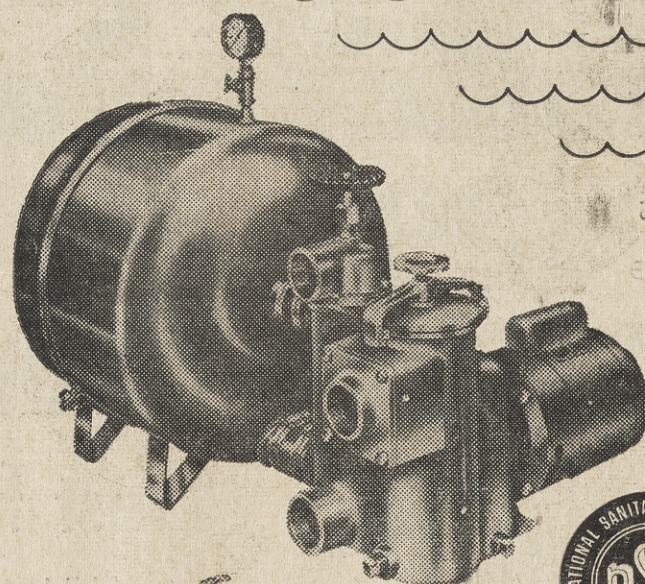

Crocker Anglo National Bank was named the successful bidder for sale of the $550,000, 1960 Series B, Lafayette School District bonds. Cost to the district will be $185,865 and the yield will be 3.0849.

Deputy District Attorney Robert Belzenderfer was granted special compensation for legal counsel on the Metropolitan Water District contract issue of $350 per month for overtime for preparing briefs for the county water agency.

A CLAIM from John D. Curtis, 1090 Walker Avenue, Walnut Creek, for $561 damage to his trees was denied.

Establish Eligibility Early for Vet Loan

If you plan on a veteran's loan or on using veteran's educational assistance, be sure to establish your eligibility well ahead of time.

This piece of advice was handed out this week by Veteran's Service Officer William R. Smaker, who said veterans must have a Cal-Vet certificate of eligibility to show their right to apply for a loan or educational assistance.

Once the eligibility is established, said Smaker, all handling of future applications will be greatly expedited.

Those eligible under the Cal-Vet program are veterans who are natives of California or who entered active duty in the armed forces from this state in time of armed conflict.

IN ORDER to establish eligibility, then, the veteran should submit a copy of form DVA-1, "Application for Certificate of Eligibility: Cal-Vet Farm and Home Purchase - Veterans Educational Assistance."

This can be obtained from the Veteran's Service Office or any office of the California Department of Veterans Affairs.

When he submits the application, the veteran must also submit a large, clear photographic copy of his discharge, or some other official documents that show the date and place of his entry into the active service along with the character and date of separation.

If he served for more than one period, he must enclose documents showing all dates and places of enlistment and discharge; and if he is still in the service he must submit a Statement of Service from his personnel officer.

All should be mailed to the Department of Veterans Affairs, P. O. Box 1559, Sacramento.

Once the eligibility is approved, the veteran gets a blue Certificate of Eligibility signed by the director of veterans affairs and which the veteran him-

Old Vic Company Opens SF Run Monday Night

The world-famous Old Vic Company of London will perform in San Francisco for a two-week engagement opening at the Geary Theatre Monday.

Presented by S. Hurok, the company of 50 will be headed by John Clements, Barbara Jefford, John Stride, William Sylvestre and Joanna Dunham.

Three plays are included in the repertoire to be presented here.

Opening play will be Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" with Barbara Jefford in the title role and Clements as the Earl of Warwick.

"Saint Joan" will be presented Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with a Wednesday matinee.

The widely-acclaimed Franco Zeffirelli production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" with John Stride and Joanna Dunham as the young lovers is scheduled for eight performances Thursday through Wednesday, May 16, with Saturday and Wednesday matinees.

The engagement will end with Michael Bentham's production of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" with performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, May 17, 18 and 19 with a Saturday matinee.

The Old Vic, which last appeared here in 1958, is on a 13-city tour of the United States and Canada.

Peace Delegate Speaks at Walnut Creek Red Cross

At the Walnut Creek Red Cross Building last Thursday, local residents heard Mrs. Emily Lewis tell of her experiences in Geneva as a Bay Area delegate for the Women for Peace.

Fifty women from various cities throughout the United States went to Geneva during the first week of April to present petitions signed by 50,000 women to the delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference, asking that they continue their deliberations until an agreement is reached.

The Diablo Women for Peace Corps partially sponsored Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis' strongest impression in talking to the negotiators was how glad they were to see these representatives from the various groups. There were 51 women also from Canada, Great Britain, Norway, France, Sweden, West Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Lewis remarked how difficult it was for newsmen to get a complete picture of the negotiations because the delegates meet in private session. Upon leaving the conference room at the end of the day each negotiator gives a report to his own news representative. Time does not permit independent newsmen to interview the negotiators or evaluate their reactions for a daily press release.

The official proceedings of the negotiations are not released until almost a month after the deliberations when, regrettably, they are no longer newsworthy.

Mrs. Lewis expressed the hope that the exchange of names and addresses between the women at Geneva will result in greater activity for support of a successful disarmament agreement.

She recommended that support be demonstrated to the negotiators at Geneva either by continued delegations to Geneva, however possible.

Contemporary Art Lectures Begin Tonight

Two free lectures on contemporary art will be presented tonight and next Friday night at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center with Keith Boyle giving a demonstration of techniques in connection with his talks.

Boyle is a prize-winning artist credited with 29 exhibits according to Earl Allen, director of the Pageant of Arts. He is a supervisor from the San Francisco Museum of Art's Department of Education and will illustrate his lectures with slides.

Open to the public, the lectures precede the seventh annual Pageant of Arts, which opens May 25 for 10 days of arts sponsored by the City of Walnut Creek.

Prior to assuming his present position, Boyle taught at Lake Forest College, Barat College, both located in Lake Forest, Illinois, and at Sacramento State College.

Among his many exhibits are included one- and two-man exhibits at the Feingarten Gal-eries in both Chicago and San Francisco. Paintings selected by the Art Institute of Chicago for a tour of French and German museums included work by Boyle.

His latest exhibit, a one-man show, will open May 18 at the Triangle Art Gallery, San Francisco.

The lumber sold from the Bureau of Land Management timberlands was valued at more than $2 million in 1960.

Mums are the Most Popular Perennial

Bloom is the end product of most ornamental plants, but few of them reach this goal with such fabulous burst of color as the chrysanthemums. When, after months of waiting, they start their show, you know they were worth waiting for.

If you would fill your fall garden with these most popular perennials, the time to start is right now. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen will be offering started plants of all the best chrysanthemums during the coming weeks. They are easy to transplant and, if you understand their needs, easy to grow.

EXCEPT FOR the summer-blooming cushion mums, which we'll consider later, all the chrysanthemum family should be guided through various cultural steps designed to promote the maximum of flowering foliage for the fall show. These include regular watering and feeding to keep them growing plus pinching to encourage their bushiness.

Chrysanthemums have monumental appetites and the wise gardener will make sure the soil is enriched at planting time. Use steer manure and plan to supplement this with twice-monthly meals of liquid fish. Watering is essential to make the food available and to keep the growing plants succulent and vigorous.

The plants you set out from nursery plant bands should have about two weeks to settle in their new location, then the tops should be pinched out to stop growth. This is the first of several pinchings to come and will promote about three new shoots where only one was before.

SUBSEQUENT pinching will encourage more new shoots, hence more flowering foliage. Pinching should stop in the first half of July, however, so that the plants may develop undisturbed until flowering. Bud removal during August and September will result in larger, if fewer, blooms.

Like the dahlia, chrysanthemums have myriad faces: Pom-pom, spider, spoon, anemone and exhibition mums are all popular forms. For average garden use, however, don't overlook the summer blooming cushion mums. These may also be planted now.

NATURALLY compact in growth, they are wonderful fillers in sunny borders and beds, in rockeries and in containers. They are long blooming and will come on again and again if you keep the faded blossoms cut back. We can't recommend them too highly.

In the past 21 years more than 10,000,000,000 board feet of timber have been cut from the Oregon and California grant lands.

Chrysanthemum Gives Double Duty in Garden

You can get double duty from chrysanthemums which are bought this time of year in full bloom. These early bloomers are greenhouse grown, however, they adapt without trouble to the garden and may be planted out for a second bloom this fall.

Take the faded plant from its pot and set it in a sunny, well dug garden spot. Then cut the tops back to about six inches, feed and water the plant and grow it on as you would any home-grown chrysanthemum for its second show of color.

Fuchsias Reward Care by Blooms

Constant moisture and frequent feeding is rewarded with prolific bloom on your fuchsias. Use a spray when watering and give the leaves a shower as well as the roots. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen suggest mulching around fuchsias with steer manure or peat moss as a moisture conserving measure.

Use a two or three-inch mulch. As for feeding, liquid fish or a soluble commercial fertilizer enables you to do the job without having to scratch around the near-surface roots.

Decorative Dwarf Citrus Is Delicious

Whether you eat them or merely look at them, the many varieties of dwarf citrus are a joy to have in the garden. The fruit can be decorative as well as delicious, while the trees themselves are both useful and good looking.

You can grow dwarf citrus in tubs for specimen use on patios and decks. You can fill a foundation planting with them or grow them as a dense hedge-screen on a sunny property line. Moreover, these dwarfs can be grown up against a wall to catch heat and ripen the fruit in areas where citrus is normally hard to ripen.

MEYER LEMON was the first popular dwarf citrus offered by members of the California Association of Nurserymen. Today, however, it has been joined by practically every citrus fruit commonly seen and many that are not so commonly seen.

CAN nurseries today carry varieties of limes, lemons, oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and kumquats as well as hybrids such as tangelo (a cross between grapefruit and tangerine) and limequat (a cross between Mexican lime and kumquat).

FROM THE decorative standpoint, dwarf citrus stands out because there is more fruit per square foot of foliage than on full size trees. This is due largely to the fact that the fruit is natural size while the tree is not, but it is also due to the dwarf's tendency to bear relatively more abundant crops.

Begonia Seedlings Are No. 1 May Item

Begonia seedlings are a number one nursery item in May. As every begonia gardener knows, they come cheaper by the dozen than do the year-old tubers, and if they are somewhat later to bloom, they are nonetheless lovely.

Set the seedling plants in pots for portable color or directly in the ground where shade is neither too fleeting nor too dense. Stake the young plants for they are tender and top heavy at first.

Prune Hedges to Pyramid Shape

The best hedges are those which the gardener prunes to a slightly pyramidal shape. By tapering the hedge slightly, you can always insure plenty of light to the lower regions, and lack of light is the primary cause for scraggly looks in a hedge. Water during the summer months is also important to lush-growing hedges such as privet. Use a soaker, if the hedge is down a drive or otherwise difficult to reach with a sprinkler.

Brown Spots Call For Lawn Remedy

Lawns develop brown spots for a variety of reasons—from compaction or fertilizer burn, from fungus or sod webworm. If you have this trouble with your lawn, first try by your own appraisal to determine if soil is compacted, and if you decide it is, use a spiker or corer to remedy the trouble.

If compaction doesn't seem likely, ask your nurseryman for a spray to kill sod webworms. Chances are good that one or another of these remedies will work.

THE OLIVE TREE has been a favorite since biblical times. It does well in this area. Its grayish foliage is an asset to any landscape. The full-grown, medium-sized tree is shown above. Inset is the olive in a container, as found at your local nursery.

CC Park Plan Brochures Sent To Home Owners

Nearly 120,000 Contra Costa homeowners last week were mailed copies of an eight-page, illustrated brochure explaining the proposed $7.5 million county bond issue for parks.

The bond proposal, which will be Measure A on the June 5 primary election ballot, calls for $5 million to acquire nine sites totaling nearly 5,000 acres, with $2.5 million earmarked for park development.

Just off the press, the pamphlet contains a brief history of the bond issue, a message from the board of supervisors, a county map depicting the locations of the sites and a description of each proposed park.

THE PUBLICATION was prepared for the county public works department under the direction of communications consultant Willard Swain of Crockett.

It explains that Contra Costa's population has grown from only about 100,000 in 1940 to over 430,000 today. The county school enrollment is more than 118,000, it says.

According to the brochure, the proposed issue would cost the average county homeowner a total of about $1 per year over the 30-year life of the bonds.

Park sites have been planned for Pt. Pinole near Richmond, the Oursan Valley near San Pablo Reservoir, Briones Hills north of Lafayette, Redwood Canyon near Moraga, Buchanan Field Airport near Concord, College Hill, Mallard Slough west of Pittsburg, the Nortonville-Somersville coal mines area southwest of Antioch and Marsh Creek southwest of Brentwood.

Organizations which assisted in preparation of the brochure included the county park and recreation commission and the Citizens Committee of 500 for Parks.

Ground Covers Grow in Sun---Also in Shade

Ground covers usually come off second best when compared to lawns, but there's no denying their worth in garden use. On slopes, banks and in unattended garden areas where lawns won't grow, any of several ground covers can keep things looking neat, green and orderly throughout the year.

The ground cover need not be ground hugging. And if we think of it as such we are probably seeing it only as a substitute for grass. So long as it cloaks some unsightly area with its greenery, it makes little difference whether the ground cover grows three inches or three feet high. For that reason, we consider the Santa Cruz pyracantha and the stubby pfitzer juniper as much a ground cover as ivy or dichondra.

JUST FOR THE record, let's see what the California Association of Nurserymen considers suitable for covering large areas of ground. In sunny locations, the C.A.N. recommends dwarf rosemary, lantana, Santa Cruz pyracantha, Carmel creeper and any of several junipers for taller covers; ice plant, ornamental strawberry, ivy geranium and creeping thyme for lower cover.

In shade or part shade, the nurserymen recommend periwinkle, carpet bugle, hypericum and stone crop, the latter two of which will do equally well in the sun.

The one that seems adapted for every purpose is ivy. Indifferent to neglect and drought, as much at home in the sun as in the shade, the ivies deserve every bit of their acknowledged popularity.

THE DIFFERENCES among ivies may be subtle, but they are definite. Algerian ivy, the variegated form of which is most widely used in hot, sunny situations, has large leaves that are less deeply lobed than English ivy. The latter, though it has many of its own variations, is generally smaller leaved and more often found in green rather than variegated forms.

The small leaf ivy, which is extremely popular for covering small areas, is a variation of English ivy known as Hahn's ivy. Like all ground covers, the ivies must outgrow their initial scraggly looks before you can ignore them.

May Is Merry Month in Your Garden

The merry month of May is a good one for gardeners. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests doing the following this week:

1. Use shears to trim ivy back on fences and along walks. Ivy will stand severe cutting back with no ill effects.

2. Balled nursery stock should be planted without removing the burlap from around the roots. After the plant is in the ground, cut the tie at the top.

3. Plant zinnias, asters, dwarf dahlias and other bedding plants for summer color.

4. Seedling tuberous begonias are available and may be planted in pots or in beds.

5. Try planting hibiscus in a container. Keep it thoroughly watered and feed it once a month during growth and bloom.

Method of Handling Heart Patients Told

How can you help someone who seems to be having a heart attack is to call a doctor at once, says Contra Costa County Heart Association. You should also help the patient take a position most comfortable for him (usually half-way between lying and sitting), loosen tight clothing and see that he does not become chilled. Do not attempt to carry or lift him without the doctor's advice. IN A LEAFLET entitled "Heart Attack," the symptoms of heart attacks are listed and an explanation given of how atherosclerosis, the condition responsible for most heart attacks, develops. The leaflet also describes the chest pain known as angina pectoris.

Most patients are able to continue with their usual job once they have recovered from a heart attack. The heart association advises them to:

1. Keep weight down;
2. Eat four small meals daily;

3. Get plenty of rest and take moderate exercise;
4. Avoid over-exertion and over-excitement.

"Heart Attack" is available from the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

Changes to Strengthen Classroom Teaching

"Resource teachers" will gradually replace some of the district-wide consultant staff in the 30 elementary schools in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, announced Supt. John Moiso last week.

This is only one of the three changes and possibly a fourth designed to strengthen classroom teaching for the 18,000 students in the elementary schools.

These "resource teachers" have a background to perform a variety of special tasks. Their duties include helping new teachers through the critical first few weeks, working with both slow and gifted children so they may be given maximum opportunities without depriving the middle group. The teachers also check the 15 per cent of students who fail to achieve to their tested potential, and they sit in for teachers to allow them more time to teach their specialties such as mathematics.

"If the teacher had a chance to regenerate energy and calm, he could teach more effectively in the afternoon," Moiso said.

PG&E Honors Local Men for Long Service

L. B. Boehner and R. J. Moore, both of Lafayette, were honored by Pacific Gas and Electric Company for 25 years of service.

An awards dinner for 489 P. G. & E. employees was held Wednesday night at Jack London Hall.

Of the 18,666 employees of P. G. & E., 3486 will be honored this year for service to the company. Employees are honored upon completing each five-year period of service.

Almost 80 per cent of P. G. & E.'s employees have five years or more of service. There are

County Planners Approve Rezoning

Adoption of Highway setback lines for Contra Costa Highway between Arnold Highway and Golf Club Road was approved by the county planning commission Tuesday night.

The commissioners also approved a rezoning from single family residential to multiple family residential, a piece of property in the Saranap area.

3625 employees, or 19 per cent, who have been with the company 20 years or more.

Boehner lives at 3188 Cordova Way and Moore at 1839 Ivanhoe Avenue.

California Growth Twice Nearest State in Decade

During the decade covered by the 1960 census, almost twice as many people moved into California as into any other state.

The actual net migration figure was 3.1 million persons. Florida was second with 1.6 million.

In the 1950-60 period, California registered a 5 million population increase, which means that better than three out of every five persons comprising the gain rode into the state rather than were born into it.

These facts behind the 1960 census and California's population boom are reported this month by Wells Fargo Bank in its Business Review.

THE FURTHER IMPACT of migration on California's population is shown by the experience of the state's three fastest growing metropolitan areas—San Jose, San Diego, and Sacramento.

There the population increase was almost a million persons, of whom better than 70 percent were added as a result of migration.

The pressure exerted by population growth on California's schools is also gauged by the figures reported by Wells Fargo.

With a population increase of 48.5 percent, the state's school enrollment jumped by 97 percent between 1950 and 1960.

The pressure on elementary schools comes from the 1.7 million children under five reported in 1960.

HIGH SCHOOLS and colleges are pressured, in turn, by the 2.4 million enrollment in the elementary schools in the census year. The same year showed 876,000 in California's high schools and 326,000 in its colleges.

A happy note struck in the Wells Fargo report, although falling on deaf ears at income tax time, is that Californians' income growth has far outpaced the rise in the cost of living.

The median income (mid-point in terms of people, not average income) of California families rose from $3,585 to $6,726, or 88 percent, during 1949-59. The same period saw the cost of living, as measured by the consumer price index, go up 24 percent.

Starting the 1960-70 period with a larger population base, California's percentage gain will be lower, reports Wells Fargo Bank—but the actual population increase will be greater than it was in 1950-60.

There were more than 3.5 million miles of roads and streets in the United States in 1960, reports the National Automobile Club.

Water District Sponsors Use of Car Safety Belts

A campaign to encourage employees to use seat belts in their private cars has been added to the safety program of Treated Water Division, Contra Costa County Water District. The campaign was set up by the division safety officer George Buckingham, in cooperation with the East Bay Chapter of the National Safety Council. Initial activities under the program have included education about the need for belts, and arrangements for group purchases at a special discount price.

BUCKINGHAM said educational materials have been posted on the employee bulletin board, and all have been shown a film on the subject produced by the University of California. The film, "Safety Through Seat Belts" illustrates the benefits of wearing a seat belt and the hazards of not wearing one. Buckingham said that this same type of seat belt has been used by the California Highway Patrol since 1953. He claimed the Highway Patrol sets the highest standards of any governmental agency. About one-fifth of the division's employees have had seat belts not only during working hours but after work too. As a public agency we have a special duty in this connection. ALSO, but cutting down after-work accidents we improve efficiency and cut down absenteeism.

Approval Given Waterway Plan

Recommendations of the Northern California Marine Affairs Conference for congressional appropriations for maintenance of navigation waterways were endorsed last week by directors of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

The recommendations, based upon the area's needs and after consultation with district officials of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, will be taken to Washington soon by Robert Langner, manager of the San Francisco Marine Exchange.

They call for continuing studies of feasibility of deepening and widening the 70-mile ship channel between Richmond and Antioch which carries approximately two-thirds of the ocean commerce of San Francisco Bay.

Copies of the resolution, similar to one previously adopted by the board of supervisors, will be sent to Senators Thomas H. Kuechel and Clair Engle and Congressman John F. Baldwin.

Supervisor Thomas J. Coll attended the meeting and spoke briefly, commending the association for its activities in connection with the county park bond campaign and for undertaking responsibility for county displays at the state and county fairs and the Western Space Age Exposition.

The total standing volume of public domain forest and woodland administered by the Bureau of Land Management in Alaska was $50 billion board feet of timber in 1960.

County To Get Big Gas Tax Refund

A whopping $2,032,300 will be Contra Costa County's share of highway users taxes during the 1962-63 fiscal year, according to estimates of the state controller's office.

This is based on the state estimates of an all-time high collection of $94,034,800 which will be apportioned monthly to the 58 counties in the state.

The money comes principally from the gasoline tax of six cents per gallon. Of this amount, four cents goes to the state highway fund, 1.38 cents to counties and the remaining .58 cent to cities.

Law requires that funds be spent for highways, streets and roads.

Only four million acres of the 33 million administered by the Bureau of Land Management in 13 Western States is classified as commercial forest lands.

The Bureau of Land Management administers 125 million acres of public timberlands in Alaska.

County Files Brief Against Metro Contract

Contra Costa County's brief as a "friend of the court" concerning the validity of the Metropolitan Water District contract with the state water project was filed today in the State Supreme Court.

Some 21 other counties have joined Contra Costa to argue that the contract, approved by the voters in 1960 with a $1.8 billion dollar bond issue, is not legal.

"The whole bond act is a collection of 'pork barrel' projects, vaguely alluded to and never defined," the brief claims.

"It is in reality a blank check upon the California treasury. The payees are the State Department of Water Resources and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California."

The brief was drawn up by Deputy District Attorney Robert Betzenderfer and presented by District Attorney John Nejedly.

The statement claims that the water bond act is invalid because it was not for "a single object or work" as required by the state constitution for bond issues, and because the act embraces projects not included in the title.

The contract also discriminates severely against a large part of the state's economy, namely agriculture.

"These discriminations are wholly without legislative sanction or other legal or moral justification and must be struck down," the brief charges.

The suit, which could conceivably tie up the state water project, was filed by the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California to officially validate the contract with the state.

Container Roses

Container grown roses offer the gardener a chance to make up for failing to plant roses during the bare root season. They also have the advantage of coming full blown into your garden so that there's no waiting around for blooms to develop. Select them while they are in bloom at the nurseries, so you can see exactly what you're getting.

More than $34 million in lumber was sold from the Oregon and California grant lands in 1960.

Spray Underside Of Rose Leaves

When spraying roses, it is important to shield pests and fungus spores to soak the undersides of leaves as well as the top. If you spray from directly on top of a bush, the leaves act as a shield for the foliage untouched.
